AT LONDON,

Imprinted by Felix Kyngston, for Richard Moore, and are to be sold at his shop in Saint Dunstons Church yard, in Fleetstreet. 1620.

[No. 691.]

M4. Title as follows with printer's device preceding the imprint, N1 (verso blank):

Pentologia: | Or | The Quintessence | Of Meditation. | Mors tua, Mors Christi, Fraus Mundi, Gloria Cœli, | Et Dolor Inferni, fuit meditanda tibi. | Thy Death, the death of Christ, the World's Tentation, | Heavens Ioy, Hells Torment, be thy Meditation. | At London, | Imprinted by Felix Kyngston, for Richard Moore, | and are to be sold at his shop in Saint Dunstons Church-yard. 1620.

Ten poems of sixteen lines each, N2-O2. Each of the five titles enumerated in the Latin couplet on the title has two poems devoted to it.

The first edition of Quarles's first book. Other separate editions appeared in 1626, 1633, 1642, and it was included in all the editions of Quarles's "Divine Poems", 1630 et seq.

692 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

Hadaffa: | Or | The History | Of Queene Ester: | With Meditations thereupon, | Diuine and Morall. | Horat. Ode 6. | Conamur tenues, grandia; nec pudor, | Imbellisque Lyræ Mufa potens vetat. | By Fra. Quarles. | At London, | Imprinted for Richard Moore, and are to be sold at his | shop in Saint Dunstons Church-yard, in | Fleetstreet. 1621.

Quarto. First edition.

COLLATION: A-N2, in fours.

Title as above with printer's device preceding the imprint, A1; on verso the royal coat of arms. Dedication "To The Most High And Mighty Prince, Renowned For Learning, Piety, And All Gracious Governement: James, By The Grace Of God, King Of Great Brittain, France And Ireland, Defender Of The Faith. Francis Quarles, His Most Humble Servant, and faithfull Homager, dedicates, presents, and consecrates theſe his labours, to receiue honour from his gracious countenance, and to be glorified by his approbation", A2 (verso blank). "A Preface To The Reader", A3-A4 (verso blank). "The Introduction" in verse, B1-C1 recto. "The Argument Of The History" in prose, C1 verso to C2 recto; on verso three stanzas of six lines each "To The Highest: His Humble Servant Implores his gracious ayde". The work, C3-N2 (verso blank).

This is a poetical paraphrase of the Book of Esther. It is divided into twenty descriptive sections, each one headed with an "Argument" and followed by a "Meditatio". It is apparently the only separate edition of the poem, which was afterwards included in all the editions of the "Divine Poems".

Quarto. First edition.

COLLATION: A-P2, in fours.

Title as above with the printer's device preceding the imprint, A2 (verso blank). Dedication in verse to Charles, Prince of Wales, A3. "A Preface To The Reader" in prose, A4-B1 (verso blank). "The Proposition Of The Worke" in verse, B2. "The Generall Argument Of The Historie" in prose, B3 (verso blank).

Three stanzas of six lines each "To The Great Tetragramaton, Lord Paramount Of Heaven And Earth: His Humble fervant dedicates himselfe, And Implores the Enfranchising of his Mufe", B4. "Iob Militant", C1-P1. "The Digestion of the whole Historie", five stanzas of six lines each, P2.

The work is divided into nineteen sections, each one headed by an "Argument" and followed by a "Meditatio". There was no other separate edition, and the poem afterwards formed the third division of the "Divine Poems", 1630 et seq.

694 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

Sions | Elegies. | Wept | By Jeremie The | Prophet: | And | Periphras'd | by | Fra. Quarles. | London. | Printed by W. Stansby for Thomas Dewe, and are to | be sold at his shop in Saint Dunstons | Church-yard. 1624.

Quarto. First edition.

COLLATION: A-H2, in fours.

Title as above with the printer's device preceding the imprint, A1 (verso blank). A facsimile is given. Dedication in twelve lines of verse to William, Earl of Pembroke, A2 (verso blank). "To The Reader" in prose, A3-A4 recto; on verso twelve lines of verse "To The True Theanthropos, Iesus Christ, The Saviour Of The World: His Seruant implores his faourable afsistance". "Sions Elegies", B1-G4. "The Prophet Ieremie his Prayer for the distressed people of Ierusalem, and Sion", H1-H2 (verso blank).

This paraphrase of the prophecy of Jeremiah is divided into four "Threnodias", each containing twenty-two elegies of twelve lines. Two elegies are printed on a page, with a type-metal band at the head of each. In the following year the unsold sheets of this edition were issued with a new title as follows:

Sions | Elegies. | Wept | By Ieremie the Prophet, | And | Periphras'd | By | Fra. Quarles. | London | Printed by W. Stansby for Thomas |

Dewe, and are to bee fold at his | shoppe in Saint Dunstons | Church-yard. 1625.

This was printed within the same woodcut border that was used for "Sions Sonets" of the same year.

Copies having this title have been generally called the second edition, but a close examination shows that with the exception of the title they are both the same. Like the preceding numbers, the poem was afterwards included in the "Divine Poems".

695 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

Sions | Sonets. | Sung | By Solomon the King, | And | Periphras'd | By | Fra. Quarles. | London | Printed by W. Stansby for Thomas | Dewe, and are to bee fold at his | shoppe in Saint Dunstons | Church-yard. 1625.

Quarto. First edition.

COLLATION: A-F, in fours.

One blank leaf, A1. Title as above within an elaborate woodcut border, A2 (verso blank). A facsimile is given. Dedication to James, Marquis of Hamilton, A3. "To the Readers" in prose, and "Epithalme To The Bridegroom" in verse, A4. "Sions Sonets", B1-F4 (verso blank).

The poems in this volume, though called "sonets", are really poems varying in length from one to nineteen stanzas of eight lines each. There are twenty-five such poems in all, fourteen being given to the "Bride", nine to the "Bridegroom", and two to "Virgins".

This was the only separate edition ever published until this year, 1905, when it was reprinted at the Riverside Press from the version included in the 1680 edition of the "Divine Poems". When it was included in the various editions of Quarles's "Divine Poems" the side-notes were omitted.

696 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

Argalus and Parthenia | The Argument of ŷ History. | Written by Fra: Quarles. | Lufit Anacreon | London Printed for Iohn Marriott in St Dunstons Church: | yard, fleetstreet. 1629.

Quarto. First edition.

COLLATION: A-X, in fours.

[No. 696. Slightly reduced.]

Six lines of verse entitled "The minde of the Frontspiece", A1 (recto blank). Facing it is the frontispiece or title, as above, engraved by Cecil, a facsimile of which is given. Dedication to Henry Rich, Earl of Holland, A2 (verso blank). "To the Reader" dated "Dublin this 4. of March. 1628", A3. The poem, A4-X3. Two supplementary poems entitled "Hos ego verficulos" and "The Authours Dreame", X4.

The short supplementary poem beginning, "Like to the Damask Rose you see", the authorship of which Quarles claims by the words "Hos ego verficulos" printed at its head, occurs, with variations, in the works of several seventeenth-century poets. Quarles gives only two stanzas. The first of these also occurs in the "Microbiblion" of Simon Wastell, 1629, together with four others which are not in Quarles. Wastell omits Quarles's second stanza. Other verses on exactly the same model occur in the poems of Henry King, Francis Beaumont, and William Browne. The Rev. J. Hannah, in his edition of "Poems and Psalms by Henry King", 1843, p. cxviii, succeeded in gathering from printed sources eight different stanzas "framed on the very same model, and yet scattered over the writings of five different authors"; and he added two stanzas from manuscript sources.

697 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

Argalus and Parthenia | The Argument of y<sup>e</sup> History. | Newly perufed perfected and | Written by Fra: Quarles. | Lufit Anacreon | London Printed for Iohn Marriott in S<sup>t</sup> Dunstons Church: | yard flectstreet. [n. d.]

Quarto.

COLLATION: A-V, in fours.

Six lines of verse entitled "The minde of the Frontspiece", A1 (recto blank). Facing it is the frontispiece or title, as above, engraved by Cecil. Dedication to the Earl of Holland, A2 (verso blank). "To the Reader" dated "Dublin this 4. of March. 1628", A3. The poem in three books, followed by two short poems, the first headed "Hos ego verficulos", and the second "The Authours Dreame", A4-V4 (verso blank).

The title is the same engraved plate that was used in the first edition, with the words "Newly perufed perfected and" inserted, and the date erased.

There are at least two separate editions of "Argalus and Parthenia" without date. The collations of the two are exactly the same, the only variations being typographical. In order to help distinguish between them, a few of the variations are here noted, the two editions being designated as A and B respectively.

- A. Book II. l. 1. Saile gentle Pinace: Now the heavens are clar.
 B. Book II. l. 1. Saile gentle Pinace: Now the heavens are clear.
 A. Book III. l. 1. When sturdy Marches stormes are overblown,
 And Aprils gentle showers are flidden down.
 B. Book III. l. 1. When sturdy Marches stormes are overblowne,
 And Aprils gentle showers are flidden downe.
 A. Sig. Q becomes Sig. Q̄ in B.
 B. The first leaf of Sig. K is misprinted R.

"The minde of the Frontpiece" in each is printed between two narrow type-metal bands, which are also used in other parts of the volume. These bands are formed of rows of small printer's ornaments. In A the row is regular. In B it is broken by an interrogation-point (?) which does not always fall in the same location.

Probably many other variations exist, but it is thought that those enumerated are sufficient to distinguish between the two editions.

In 1647 appeared another edition which collates exactly the same as the editions without date here described, excepting that the date has been filled in on the title. By some error the preface in this edition is dated "Dublin this 4. of March. 1621" instead of 1628, a mistake that has led some bibliographers into stating that the first edition appeared in 1621.

The work was extremely popular and passed through many editions. In 1650 the author's son, John Quarles, published a continuation.

698 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

Argalus, | And | Parthenia. | Written by Fra. Quarles. | The last Edition Corrected, Amended, | And | Illustrated with 30.
 Figures | Relating to the | Story. | London, | Printed by W. W.
 for Humphrey Mofcley, and are to be sold | at his shop, at the Prince's Armes in St Paul's | Church-yard. 1656.

Quarto.

COLLATION: A-Y<sub>3</sub>, in fours.

Facing the title is a portrait of the author engraved by Cross, a copy of the Marshall portrait, with the English verses underneath. Title as above. A1: on the verso are six lines of verse entitled "The minde of the Frontispice". Engraved frontispiece, being a reduced copy of the frontispiece in the earlier editions, with the addition of a male and a female figure standing on either side of the curtain, A2 (verso blank). Dedication to the Earl of Holland, A3 (verso blank). "To the Reader" dated "Dublin, this 4. of March, 1621", A4. The poem followed by two short poems headed "Hos ego verficulos" and "The Authors Dream", B1-Y<sub>3</sub>.

Of the thirty figures which the title calls for, the first is the engraved frontispiece as described above. The others are numbered from 1 to 29 in the lower left-hand corner, and a corresponding number in the text indicates the passage that each one is intended to illustrate. Each engraving is placed opposite the passage it illustrates. No. 1 is printed on the recto of Sig. C1, and forms part of that signature, having the text printed on its back. The other twenty-eight plates are inserted, and do not form parts of the signatures in which they appear.

The engravings are all unsigned, and are extremely crude both in drawing and execution.

One blank leaf, ¶1. Title as above within double ruled lines, ¶2 (verso blank). Dedication "To The Royall Budde Of Maiestie, and Center of all our Hopes and Happineffe, Charles, Prince of Great Britaine . . . &c.", ¶3-¶4 (verso blank). "The Epistle Recommendatory" addressed "To The Right Honourable and truly vertuous Lady, Mary Countesse of Dorfet, Governesse to that Royall Infant, Charles, Prince of Great Britaine, France, and Ireland, the Mirror of unstained Honour", A1-A2 (verso blank). "To the Readers", A3. Epigram in Latin "Ad Lectores Vtriusq; Generis", A4; on the verso ten lines of verse "To God". (In some copies the verso of this leaf is blank.) The poems, divided into four books, B1-Dd3. The verso of Sig. P4 is blank.

Other editions of this volume appeared in 1633, 1636, 1638, 1641, 1652, etc.

704 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

Emblemes | By Fra: Quarles. | London | Printed by G. M.
and Sold at John Marriots | shope in S<sup>t</sup> Dunstons Church yard

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: A-V, in eights; one leaf without signature; X, eight leaves; Y, two leaves.

Title as above engraved by William Marshall, A1. A facsimile is given. On the verso is the following motto: "Hæc Laus, hic Apex Sapientie est, ea viventem appetere, quæ morienti forent appe-tenda". Dedication to Edw. Benlowes, A2. "To The Reader", A3 recto. Commendatory poems by Rich. Love and Edw. Benlowes, A3 verso to A4 recto. The work, beginning with the first emblem engraved by Marshall, A4 verso to V8 (verso blank). Title as follows, one leaf without signature (verso blank):

Lusus | Poeticus | Poëtis. | Londini, | Excudebat G. M. 1634.

Preceding the imprint is a large printer's device, being the well-known mark of the Stephens family of Paris,—a sage standing under a tree from which several branches are falling, and the motto "Altum Sapere Noli".

"Ad Magnæ Britanniae Regem. Anagramma quadruplex" by Edouardus Benlowes, XI. Frontispiece by Marshall, a facsimile of which is given, X2 (recto blank). "Quarlëis", a long Latin poem signed "Benevolus", an anagram for Benlowes, X3-Y2. At the foot of the last page is the Imprimatur as follows: "Imprimantur hæc Carmina unà cum Emblematis Quarlesis. Guliel. Haywood".

The paging begins on the recto of A5 and runs to p. 136; it then begins again with p. 133 and runs to p. 307 (V8 recto). The supplementary portion of the volume — "Quarlëis" — is unpagéd.

The work is divided into five books, and an engraving is printed on the verso of every second leaf. The first book has fifteen plates engraved by Marshall, and one by Vaughan. The second book has fourteen by Marshall and two anonymous. The third book has three by Marshall, twelve by Simpson, and one by Payne. The fourth book has three by Marshall and twelve by Simpson, and the fifth book has four by Marshall and eleven by Simpson.

Copies of the book vary in regard to the seventh plate of the second book (p. 88). In a few copies the plate on that page is the same as that on p. 28 (Book I, Plate VII), but in most copies it is different.

The two unsigned plates in the second book have all the characteristics of Marshall's work and are probably by him.

The plates in the last three books are copied from Hermann Hugo's "Pia Desideria Emblematis, Elegiis et Affectibus SS. Patrum illustrata", Antwerp, 1624, and Quarles's verses in these books are translated or closely paraphrased from Hugo.

The "Lusus Poeticus Poëtis" by Benlowes sometimes occurs as a separate volume, and in some cases of the "Emblemes" it is wanting altogether.

705 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

Emblemes | By Fra: Quarles. | London. | Printed by I. D. for Francis. Eglesfield. and are to be sold | at the signe of the Mari-gold, in S<sup>t</sup> Pauls Church-yard. 1639. | W. M. sculp.

Octavo. Second edition.

COLLATION: A-Z, in eights; Aa, eight leaves; Bb, three leaves.

Title as above engraved by Marshall, A1; it is the same plate as the title to the first edition with only the imprint changed.

On the verso is a motto in Latin. Dedication to Edward Benlowes, A2. "To The Reader", A3 recto. Commendatory poems by Rich. Love and Edw. Benlowes, A<sub>3</sub> verso to A<sub>4</sub> recto. The emblems, A<sub>4</sub> verso to A<sub>8</sub> (verso blank). One blank leaf, X<sub>1</sub>. One leaf, recto blank, and having on the verso "The minde of the Frontispiece", X<sub>2</sub>:

"This Bubble's Man: Hope, Feare,
False Joy and Trouble,
Are thote Four Winds which daily toffe thi Bubble".

On the same page is the Imprimatur, as follows: "Hieroglyphica hęc de vitā hominis perlegi, & digna cęnto quę typis mandentur. Tho: Wykes R. P. Epife. Lond. Capell. domell. Jan. 9. 1637". Title as follows, X<sub>3</sub> (verso blank):

This is the second edition of both parts of the volume, the "Hieroglyphikes" having first appeared in 1638.

An edition of the "Emblemes" was published at Cambridge in 1643.

Hieroglyphikes | of the life of Man. | Fra: Quarles | London, | Printed by John Dawton, for Francis Eglesfield, and are to be sold by him at the signe of the Mari. | gold in Pauls Church-yard. 1639.

The larger part of the title is an engraving representing a large bubble blown about by four winds, which are figured by a cherub's head in each corner. It is unsigned, but is probably the work of William Marshall. The bookseller's imprint is in type.

Dedication to Mary, Countess of Dorset, X<sub>4</sub>. A short address "To The Reader" by the author and a Latin couplet signed "Benevolus", the anagram of Benlowes, X<sub>5</sub> recto. The work, X<sub>5</sub> verso to Bb<sub>3</sub> (verso blank).

706 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

The poem is written in seven-line stanzas, two being printed on each page.

708 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

Hieroglyphikes | of the life of Man. | Fra: Quarles | London, |
Printed by M. Fleisher, for Iohn Marriot. | 1638.

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: A-E<sub>3</sub>, in eights.

One blank leaf, A1. The recto of A2 is blank; on verso, facing the title, is "The minde of the Frontispeece" in two lines of verse, and the Imprimatur dated "Jan. 9. 1637" and signed "Tho: Wykes R. P. Epic. Lond. Capell. domeft." Title as above, A3 (verso blank). The larger part of the title is contained in an engraving representing a large bubble, symbolical of Life, blown about by the four winds, which are figured by a cherub's-head in each corner. The imprint is in type. Dedication to the Countess of Dorset, A4. A short address "To the Reader" by the author, followed by a Latin couplet signed "Benevolus", the anagram of Edward Benlowes, A5; on verso is the first emblem. The work, A6-E3 (verso blank).

This work is similar in character to the "Emblemes". It contains fifteen plates engraved by Marshall, one on the verso of every second leaf, beginning with Sig. A5. A blank space is left on the recto of the leaf immediately back of the engraving. In the centre of each plate is a candle, symbolical of the life of man. The second edition of the work appeared in connection with the second edition of the "Emblemes" in the following year (see No. 705).

 leditur, vincit; dum arguitur, | intelligit; tunc stat quum superari

videtur. | Oxford, | Printed by Leonard Lichfield, | Printer to the University. 1645.

Quarto. First edition.

COLLATION: A-D2, in fours.

Title as above printed in red and black, A1 (verso blank). The work, A2-D2.

This is one of three political tracts written by Quarles, the other two being "The Loyall Convert", 1644, and "The Whipper Whipt", 1644. In 1645 the three were republished in one volume under the title, "The Profest Royalist in his Quarrel with the Times".

720 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

Solomon's | Recantation, | Entituled | Ecclesiastes, | Paraphrased. | With a Soliloquie or Meditation | upon every Chapter. | Very Seasonable and Vsefull for these Times. | By Francis Quarles. | Opus posthumum. | Never before Imprinted. | With | A Short Relation Of His | Life and Death. | O curas hominum! O quantum est in rebus inane! | London, | Printed by M. F. for Richard Royston, and are to be sold | at his shop at the Signe of the Angel in Ivie-Lane. | 1645.

Quarto. First edition.

COLLATION: A-I, in fours.

Facing the title is a portrait of Quarles engraved by William Marshall, representing him as standing by an open window, his left hand folded on his breast, and the right hand holding a pen; through the window is seen a landscape with a ruined temple, and a hand issuing from the clouds, holding a wreath under which is the inscription "Effigies Francisci Quarles"; the window ledge is inscribed "Ætatis suæ 52"; at the foot are four lines of Latin verse, and the following English verses signed by Alexander Ross:

"What heere wee see is but a Graven face,
Onely the shadow of that brittle case
Wherin were treasur'd up those Gemms, which he
Hath left behind him to Posteritie".

The work is divided into twelve chapters, each one followed by a "Soliloquie".

Title as above, A1 (verso blank). "A Short Relation Of The Life and Death of M<sup>r</sup>. Francis Quarles, by V<sup>r</sup>fula Quarles, his sorrowfull Widow" and "A Letter from a Learned Divine upon the news of the death of Mr Quarles" dated "Essex. Sept. 12. 1644" and signed by Nehemiah Rogers, A2-A4. The poem, B1-13 verso, ending in the middle of the page. Two elegies, the first "In obitum clarissimi, atq; ingeniosissimi Poëtæ Francisci Quarles, Θρενημιά" by Jacobus Dupont, "Græcæ Linguæ Professor Cantab.", and the second "An Elegie upon the famous poet Francis Quarles" by R. Stable, 13 verso to 14.

[ No. 721. Slightly reduced.]

Judgement & Mercy | For | Afflicted Soules. | Or | Medita-
tions. | Soliloquies, | and | Prayers. | By | Fra. Quarles. | London, | Printed by Ric. Cotes, for Richard Royston, | at the Angell in Ivy-Lane, 1646.

Octavo.

COLLATION: A-I<sub>4</sub>, in eights.

Preceding the title is an engraved frontispiece, a facsimile of which is given. It was probably preceded by two blank leaves, A<sub>1</sub> and A<sub>2</sub>. Title as above, A<sub>3</sub> (verso blank). Dedication to the King, signed by Richard Royston, A<sub>4</sub>-A<sub>5</sub>. "The Preface", A<sub>6</sub>-A<sub>7</sub> recto. "The Table", A<sub>7</sub> verso to A<sub>8</sub> (recto blank). The work, B<sub>1</sub>-I<sub>4</sub>.

This work forms a second part of "Barnabas and Boanerges" (see No. 715).

722 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

Midnights | Meditations | Of | Death: | With | Pious and
Profitable | Observations, | and Confolations: | Perufed by | Francis Quarles | A little before his Death. | Published by E. B. |
London, | Printed by John Macock and are to be sold at his houfe,
in White Bear Court, | on Adling hill. 1646.

Octavo.

COLLATION: Three leaves without signatures; B-I, in eights.

Allegorical frontispiece showing in the foreground a broken coffin and skeleton, surmounted by an outstretched arm and hand holding a candlestick, while from the burnt-out candle the last flame rises towards the sun; Time, with hour-glass and trumpet, stands on the left, leaf one (recto blank). Twenty-two lines of verse beginning "When first my light did shine, you lik'd me well", leaf two (verso blank). Title as above within a border formed of printer's ornaments, leaf three (verso blank). The work, B<sub>1</sub>-I<sub>8</sub>. The work is divided into two parts, Part II beginning on Sig. C<sub>7</sub> verso, without separate heading. Each page is ornamented with a type-metal band at the head and foot.

This work was not written by Quarles, but perused by him "a little before his death". The initials on the title are those of Edward Benlowes, who compiled, or perhaps wrote, the work.

723 QUARLES, FRANCIS.

A direfull Anathema againft | Peace-Haters, written by | Franc.
Quarles. [1647?]

A single sheet, folio.

The sheet contains three poems printed in three columns. The first is entitled "Seven Yeares expired the third of November 1647", and has thirty lines beginning "Seven yeares the troublous time away did slip". Quarles's contribution follows in forty-two lines beginning "Peace, vipers, Peace, let crying bloud ne'r cease". The third poem is entitled "The Commons Exultation. Anagrammaticall to the Parliament, Anagram Prai lament" and contains one hundred and eight lines beginning "Pray ye that awe the Land, in Mofes Chaire".

The sheet has no imprint, and the date (1647) is only to be inferred from the title of the first poem.

Fons Lachrymarum; | Or A | Fountain | Of | Tears: | From
whence doth flow | Englands Complaint, | Jeremiahs Lamentations | Paraphras'd, | With | Divine Meditations; | And An |
Elegy | Upon that Son of Valor | Sir Charles Lucas. | Written by John Quarles. | London, Printed by J. Macock for Nathaniel
| Brooks at the Angel in Cornhil. 1648.

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: A-K2, in eights.

Portrait of the author engraved by Marshall, with the following verses at the foot:

"But for this Face, the Work had clearly gone
For old smooth Quarles himself, and not his Sonne;
Who sighing how Kings fell, and Subjects rose,
Scornes to mis-spence one single Teare
in Profe;
This Book's his shadowe. Hee 's his Fathers Shade,
Quarles is a Poet as well Borne as Made." T. M.

The portrait was probably preceded by two blank leaves, A1 and A2. It is faced by a frontispiece engraved by Marshall but unsigned, a facsimile of which is given. Title as above within a border formed of printer's ornaments, A3 (verso blank). Dedication "To The Illustrious Prince Charles, Prince of Wales," A4-A6 (verso blank). "To The Reader", A7. Commendatory poems by R. L. and Rich. Quiney, A8. Poems, B1-K2 (verso blank).

The unsold copies of this edition were reissued in the following year with a new title, in which the only change is that of the date to 1649.

725 QUARLES, JOHN.

Fons Lachrymarum; | Or A | Fountain | Of | Tears: | From whence doth flow | Englands Complaint, | Jeremiah's Lamentations. | Paraphras'd, | With | Divine Meditations; | Written by John Quarles. | London, Printed for Nathaniel Brooks, | at the Angel in Cornhill. 1655.

Octavo. Second edition.

COLLATION: A-G, in eights; H, one leaf.

Preceding the title are a portrait of the author and a frontispiece, both engraved by Marshall, as in the first edition. They were probably preceded by two blank leaves, A1-A2. Title as above within a border formed of printer's ornaments, A3 (verso blank). Dedication to the Prince of Wales, A4-A6. "To the Reader", A7. Commendatory poems by R. L. and Rich. Quiney, A8. Poems, B1-H1.

For some reason the "Discourse between the Soul and the World" and the elegy upon Sir Charles Lucas were omitted from this edition. They were restored in the next.

726 QUARLES, JOHN.

Fons Lachrymarum: | Or A | Fountain | Of | Tears: | From whence doth flow | Englands Complaint; | Jeremiah's Lamentations | Paraphras'd with | Divine Meditations; | And An | Elegy | Upon that Son of Valor | Sir Charles Lucas, | Written by John Quarles. | The Third Edition. | London, | Printed for Obadiah Blagrove, at the Bear in St. Pauls | Church-yard, over against the little North door, 1677.

Octavo. Third edition.

COLLATION: A-M, in eights.

forrowfull Daughter to our late Martyr'd ſoveraigne, Charls, King of England etc.", A2-A3 (verso blank). "To the Reader",
A4. "A Dreame" in verse, B1-D6 recto.
The verso of Sig. D6 is printed in solid black. Title as follows, D7 (verso blank):

An | Elegy | upon | That never to be forgotten | Charles, | The First; | Late
(but too ſoon Martyr'd) King of England,
Scotland, France and Ireland. | Who

Yeer. 1648.

The elegy, D8-G5. "An Epitaph"
in the form of an acrostic on the name
"Charles, King of England", G6 (verso blank). "An Elegy upon The Right
Honorable, the Lord Capell, Baron of Hadham; Who was beheaded at Weſtminſter, for maintaining the ancient and Fundamental Lawes of the Kingdom of England, March the 9. 1648", G7-H3 (verso blank). "An Epitaph" in the form of an acrostic on the name "Arthur, Lord Capell", H4 (verso blank). "A Curſe
againſt the Enemies of Peace", H5-H6 (verso blank). "The Authors Farewell
To England", H7. The laſt leaf, Sig.
H8, is printed in solid black on both ſides.

728 QUARLES, JOHN.

Regale Lectum Miferiæ: | Or, | A Kingly Bed | Of Miſery: |
In which is contained, | A Dreame: | With | An Elegie upon
the Martyr- | dome of Charls, late King | of England, of bleſſed
| Memory. | And | Another upon the Right Honora- | ble the Lord Capel. | With a Curfe againſt the Enemies of Peace, | and the Authors Farewell to | England. | By John Quarles. | Printed in the Yeere, 1649.

Octavo.

COLLATION: A-E2, in eights.

Title as above, A1 (verso blank). Dedication to the Princess Elizabeth, A2; on verso "To the Reader". "A Dreame" in verse, A3-C2. Title as follows, C3
recto:

An | Elegy | Upon | That never to be forgotten | Charls The First; Late (but too ſoon Martyr'd) King of | England,

Scotland, France and Ireland. | Who with unmoved Conſtancy, laid down His Life,
t' exchange it for a heav'nly Crown. | January 30. 1648. | — In edibus Regum

Mors venit — | Printed in the Year, 1649.

The poem, followed by "An Elegy Upon The Right Honorable, the Lord Capell, Baron of Hadham; Who was be-headed at Westminster, for maintaining the ancient and fundamentall Lawes of the Kingdome of England", "A Curse Against The Enemies of Peace", and "The Authours Farewell To England", C<sub>3</sub> verso to E<sub>2</sub>.

The two elegies end with acrostics on the names "Charles King of England" and "Arthur Lord Capell" respectively.

One or both of the editions here described should contain two plates engraved by Marshall, but unsigned. The first, facing the title, represents the King stretched on a bier surrounded with thorns, with two of his children standing by his side; his royal crown has fallen from his head, and an angel holds forth from the clouds the Crown of Life.

The second plate, sometimes placed immediately after the frontispiece, and sometimes at the beginning of the elegy on the King, represents the King and his executioner standing on the scaffold.

It is stated in Lowndes's "Bibliographer's Manual" that the first edition of this volume was published in 1648. The compilers of this catalogue, however, have been unable to discover any earlier editions than those here described. Charles I was executed on January 30, 1648-9, and the poet as well as his publisher must have used unusual diligence to have completed their work before the 15th of March following. At the same time it is to be noted that the subtitle in the first of the above editions is dated 1648. The writer of the notice in Lowndes's Manual may have been misled by that, or, having the second edition (1649) before him, he may have concluded that the first edition was published in the preceding year.

729 QUARLES, JOHN.

Regale Lectum Miseriæ: | Or, | A Kingly Bed | Of Miserie. |
 In which is contained, | A Dreame: | With | An Elegie upon
 the Martyr- | dome of Charls, late | King of England, of | bleffed
 Memory: | And | Another upon the Right Honourable, | The
 Lord Capel. | With | A Curfe against the Enemies of Peace; and | the Authours farewell to England. | Whereunto is Added, |
 Englands Sonets. | By John Quarles. | The second Edition. |
Printed in the Yeare, 1649.

Octavo.

COLLATION: A-G, in eights.

Title as above, A1 (verso blank). Dedication to the Princess Elizabeth, A2-A3 (verso blank). "To the Reader", A4 (verso blank). "A Dreame" in verse, A5-C8. "An Elegy Upon That never to be forgotten Charles, The First", D1-F6 recto; on verso "An Epitaph" in the form of an acrostic on the name "Charles, King of England". "An Elegy Upon

The Right Honorable, the Lord Capell", F7-G3 recto; on verso "An Epitaph" in the form of an acrostic on the name "Arthur, Lord Capell". "Englands Sonnets of her beloved King", G4-G6. "A Curse against the Enemies of Peace", G7. "The Authors Farewell To England", G8.

Throughout the elegy on the King, the verso of each leaf from Sig. D1 to F5 inclusive is printed in black and white, representing mourning curtains.

The volume is illustrated with the two plates engraved by Marshall described in the note to the previous edition.

Church-yard. 1680.

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: A-F5 and G-I4, in eights.

Facing the title is an engraved frontispiece representing Joseph in Potiphar's house; at the top a scroll is inscribed "Self-Conflict represented in a Dispute between Ioseph and Potiphars Wife. A Divine Poem". At the left "Menne Inven". At the right "I. L. fc." At the foot "Printed for R: Soller<sup>s</sup> at 5 Kings Armes & Bible in St. Pauls C. yard". Title as above within double ruled lines, A2 (verso blank). "To The Reader", A3-A6 (verso blank). The poem, beginning with "The Entertainment", A7-I3; on verso a table in which "Certain godly Divines have epitomiz'd the Nature of the various inclinations of Man towards Good and Evil". List of books printed for Robert Sollers, I4.

Three leaves, F6-F8, have been cancelled in all copies; the text is complete without them.

In addition to the frontispiece, the work is further illustrated with smaller copper-plates on Sigs. A7 recto, D8 verso, E8 verso, and F1 verso. All of these plates are probably taken from one of the numerous editions of Cats's works.

In 1684 the unsold copies of this volume were reissued with a new title as follows:

Triumphaut Chastity: | Or, | Josephs | Self-Conflict, | When by his
Mistress he was inticed to | Adultery. | Shewing | The powerful Motions

Title as above, ★1 (verso blank). "To The Reader Occasioned by the Preface To a late Book call'd, The Wits Paraphras'd", ★2-★3. The poems, A1-F1.

This volume pretends to be an answer to a volume published under the title of "The Wits Paraphras'd", wherein the translations of Ovid's Epistles by Dryden, Flatman, Otway, Mrs. Behn, and others, were travestied. It is rather a further attack in the same direction on the original translations. It contains five epistles, to which ten others were added in the second edition described below.

Octavo. Sixth edition.

COLLATION: A-Z and Aa-Ff, in eights.

Facing the title is an engraved frontispiece, the same plate as in the earlier editions, with the date changed to 1668. It was probably preceded by a blank leaf, A1. Title as above within ruled lines, A2 (verso blank). Commendatory poems by Robert Randolph, I. T., Thomas Terent,

R. Brideoake, E. Gayton, “G. W.”, Jos. Howe, Owen Feltham, R. Gostelow, and Richard West, A3-B6. Poems, B7-K1. Title as follows with a large device representing a female head with a horn of plenty on either side preceding the imprint, K2 (verso blank):

The plays, X1-Z6 (verso blank). Title as follows within a single ruled line, and with a device of a rose and crown preceding the imprint, Z7 (verso blank):

The Jealous Lovers. | A | Comedie | Presented To | Their Gracious Majesties | At | Cambridge, | By the Students of Trinity-Colledge. | Written by Thomas Randolph, Mafter | of Arts, and Fellow of the Houfe. | — Valeatis Iudicra, fi me | Palma negata macrū, donata reducit opimum. | Oxon: | Printed by Hen: Hall, 1668.

Dedication to Dr. Comber, Z8; on verso “To the Reader”. Poetical addresses of the author to Sir Kenelm Digby, Sir Christopher Hatton, Mr. Anthony Stafford, Richard Lane, Master Olboston, and Thomas Riley, followed by commendatory poems by Edward Hyde, Edward Fraunces, Richard Benefield, James Dunport, Thom. Riley, Car. Fotherbie, Fr. Meres, Ro. Randolph, and Tho. Vincent, Aa1-Aa5; on verso the “Drammatis Perfonæ”. The play, Aa6-Ff8.

The designation “Fifth Edition” on the title is an error; in reality it is the sixth. The contents of this and the preceding are exactly the same as in the fourth edition, 1652. In some copies the engraved frontispiece has been omitted and a half-title substituted in its place.

Dedication to Dr. Comber, Z8; on verso “To the Reader”. Poetical addresses of the author to Sir Kenelm Digby, Sir Christopher Hatton, Mr. Anthony Stafford, Richard Lane, Master Olboston, and Thomas Riley, followed by commendatory poems by Edward Hide, Edward Fraunces, Richard Benefield, James Dupport, Thom. Riley, Car. Fotherbie, Fr. Meres, Ro. Randolph, and Tho. Vincent, Aa1-Aa5; on verso the “Drammatis Perfonæ”. The play, Aa6-F18.

This and the edition of Randolph's Poems last described, although published by the same bookseller and bearing the same date, are quite distinct. The first sometimes has the engraved frontispiece, which appeared originally in the edition of 1640 and in all the subsequent editions. In the second edition of 1668 the frontispiece is replaced by a “half-title” as described but differing in appearance from the one sometimes found in the other edition of 1668. The variations between the two editions are quite minute, and consist principally in differences in head-bands and sizes of types. Variations also exist in the lining off of the different titles, as may be seen by a careful comparison of the descriptions. The contents are precisely the same. The sixth edition can easily be distinguished from the seventh by the large printer's ornament above the imprint of “The Muses Looking-Glass” which contains a female head on either side of which is a horn of plenty filled with fruit and flowers; also by the ornament above the imprint of “The Jealous Lovers” which is the crowned Tudor rose. In the seventh edition in both titles the embellishment is an inverted pyramid of small printer's ornaments.

A very complete edition of Randolph's works was issued by Mr. W. C. Hazlitt in 1875.

761 ROWE, ELIZABETH [SINGER] (1674-1737).

Poems | On Several | Occasions. | Written By | Philomela. | London: | Printed for John Dunton at the Raven | in Jewen-Street. 1696.

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: a, eight leaves; a (repeated), four leaves: A-E4 and Aa-Ec, in eights.

Title as above within ruled lines, a1 (verso blank). "Preface To The Reader", by Elizabeth Johnson, dated "Hardings-Rents, May 10th, 1696", a2-a5. "To The Author Of these Poems, known only by Report, and by Her Works" (in verse), a6-a8. Half-title "The Contents", a1 repeated (verso blank). Table of contents, a2-a4. Poems, A1-Ee3; on verso an "Advertisement" concerning the errata. List of "Books lately Printed for John Dunton", Ee4-Ee7. List of "Books now in the Press, and Design'd for it; Printed for John Dunton", Ee8 (verso blank).

These poems were written by the author prior to her marriage to Thomas Rowe; her maiden name was Elizabeth Singer.

762 THE RUMP.

The | Rump, | Or | A Collection of Songs and Bal- | lads, made upon those who | would be a Parlia- | ment, and were but the | Rump of an Houfe of | Commons, five times dif- | folv'd. | London, |

Printed for H. Brome, and H. Marjsh, at the Gun | in Ivy Lane, and the Princes Arms in Chan- | cery-Lane near Fleetstreet 1660.

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: One leaf without signature; A, two leaves; A (repeated), eight leaves (the first two leaves of this signature are printed "Aa" and "Aa2", while the remaining leaves have only the single letter); B-D, in eights; D (repeated) to F, in eights; H-M, in eights; B and C, eight leaves each.

Facing the title is an engraved frontispiece. Title as above printed in red and black, one leaf (verso blank). "To The Reader", A1-A2 (verso blank). Poems, A1 (repeated but misprinted Aa) to DS, and D1 (repeated) to MS (verso blank). At the foot of Sig. MS recto is the inscription "Rump id est Finis". There is no signature G. Supplementary poems, B1-C8.

The collection contains forty-eight ballads and songs directed against the Puritans and Roundheads. It is probably the first of the long series of poems on affairs of state of which the following sixty years were so prolific.

Copies of the volume occur on thick paper. A variation exists between copies in the way the poem "Sir Eglamor and the Dragon" is printed on signatures M7 and M8; in some it is printed in fifteen four-line stanzas, and in others it is printed solid with every fourth line numbered in the inner margin. In some copies the second signature D has been wrongly backed by the printer, to the utter confusion of the proper sequence of pages.

763 THE RUMP.

Rump: | Or An | Exact Collection | Of the Choycest | Poems | And | Songs | Relating To The | Late Times. | By the most Eminent Wits, from Anno | 1639. to anno 1661. | London, | Printed for Henry Brome at the Gun in Ivy- | lane, and Henry Marjsh at the Princes Armes | in Chancery-lane. 1662.

Octavo. Second edition.

COLLATION: A, four leaves; B-Z and Aa-Oo3, in eights.

A leaf having the half-title "Rump-Songs," in large letters printed vertically to the page, A1 (verso blank). Engraved frontispiece from the same plate as that used for the first edition, faced by an engraved title, a facsimile of which is given. Title as above within a single line, A2 (verso blank). "To The Reader", A3-A4; on the verso is a note from "The Stationers to the Reader". The poems in two parts, B1-Oo3.

The present work is rather a new collection than a second edition of that which was published under the same name in 1660. The same engraved frontispiece is used, and the address to the reader is copied; but it contains two hundred and eight pieces against only forty-eight in the first collection.

The volume is usually said to have been edited by Alexander Brome. Twelve of the poems contained in it were included among his poems first published in 1661, and twenty are taken from the works of John Cleveland.

764 RUSSELL, JOHN.

The | Two Famous | Pitcht Battels of | Lypsich, And | Lutzen ;

Quarto. First edition.

COLLATION: ¶ and ¶¶, four leaves each ; A–K, in fours.

One blank leaf, ¶1. Title as above within a border formed of printer's ornaments, ¶2; on verso an epigram in Latin verse "Ad nobilissimum suum patronum". Dedication to William, Lord Craven, ¶3. "To the Candid Reader", ¶4 (verso blank). Commendatory poems by J. Pullen, R. Bulkley, T. Riley, Cæsar Williamson, John Saltmarsh, and Stephen Jones, ¶¶1–¶¶4 (verso blank). The two poems, one on each battle, A1–I1. Title as follows with a heavy black border, I2 (verso blank):

An | Elegie | Upon The Im- | mature
And Much | Lamented Death Of | that
moſt Chriſtian Souldier | and Renowned
Prince, | Gustavus | The Great, | King
of Swethes, Goths, | and Vandals; &c.
Composed immediately after the | first
rumour of his death, by | John Russell. | ¶ Printed by the Printers to the Vniverſitie of Cambridge. 1634.

The elegy, I3–K1 (verso blank). Two Latin poems, the first signed "J. R.", and the second "J. S.", K2–K4 (verso blank).

Copies occur with a portrait of Gustavus Adolphus facing the title, but it is open to doubt whether it were issued with the book, the majority of copies recorded occurring without it.

“The sweet-tong'd Ovid's Counterfeit behold,

The present is the first edition of the complete work. The first five books had appeared earlier, but in what year is not known, as no copy of the first edition seems to be extant. A second edition was published in 1621, in octavo, “imprinted by W. B.”, with a title engraved by Delaram.

In 1621 Sandys came to Virginia, and during his residence there as Secretary of the Colony he occupied his leisure in completing his translation, publishing it on his return in 1626. His stay in this country was short, but it was sufficient to enable American bibliographers and literary historians to claim him as an American, and his translation of Ovid as the "first utterance of the conscious literary spirit articulated in America".

"The first Booke of Virgils Æneis", Sss2-Vvv2; on verso the "Errata".

The volume is illustrated with sixteen engraved plates in addition to the frontispiece, one at the beginning of the Life of Ovid, and at the beginning of each book.

The first edition (1626) described in the previous number was republished in 1628, in duodecimo. The present is the third edition of the complete work, and the first to contain the engraved plates and the translation of the First Book of Virgil's Aeneid. In the address "to the reader" Sandys speaks of it as "the second Edition of my Translation". Copies occur on large paper. It was reprinted in 1638, in duodecimo (called on the title the third edition), and in 1640, in folio, with the plates. Other editions appeared in 1656, 1664, 1669, 1673, 1678, 1682, and 1690.

Title as above with printer's device preceding the imprint, (★) 1; on verso the dedication as follows: "To The Best Of Men, And Most Excellent Of Princes, Charles, By The Grace Of God King Of

Great-Britaine, France, And Ireland; Lord Of The Foure Seas; Of Virginia, The Vast Territories Adioyning, And Dispersed Islands Of The Westerne Ocean; The Zealous Defendor Of The Christian

Faith: George Sandys. The Humblest Of His Servants, Presents And Consecrates These His Paraphrases Vpon The Divine Poems, To Receive Their Life And Estimation From His Favour." Ten lines of verse without heading, (★) 2 recto. "To the Queene" in twenty-six lines of verse, (★) 2 verso. "To the Prince" in sixteen lines of verse, (★) 3 recto. Commendatory poems by Lord Falkland, Henry King, Sidney Godolphin, Thomas Carew, Dudley Digges, Francis Wiatt, Henry Rainsford, Edward (sic) Waller, Wintoure Grant, and a short prose commendation in Latin by William Bray, (★) 3 verso to (★★★)1. "A Paraphrase Vpon Iob", A1-G4 (verso blank). Half-title "A Paraphrase Vpon The Psalmes Of

"A Paraphrase Vpon The Songs Collected Out Of The Old And New Testaments", Bbb1-Dddd; on verso the colophon as above.

An examination of six copies of this volume shows Signature Aaa1 wanting in all. Coming between two divisions of the work it was probably a blank leaf, and has been so described above.

Some copies were printed on large paper, probably for presentation. The "Paraphrase Upon The Psalmes Of David" had appeared before in 1636, as described in the preceding number. In the present edition many of them are accompanied with musical notation.

Another edition of the volume was published in 1648 in octavo. To the edition published in 1676 was added "A Paraphrase Upon The Song Of Solomon" which first appeared separately in 1641.

One of the most noted of the numerous contributions to the controversy between Dryden and Shadwell. As it principally consists of abuse of Dryden, it could not, of course, have been written by him. It is included in the works of Rochester, Roscommon, and Dorset, at least as early as the edition of 1707, as having been written by John Lord Somers, and this statement is repeated through subsequent editions.

"An Alphabeticall Table Containing All The Principall Matters mentioned in this Poeme, and in the Illustrations thereof", Cc6-Dd3; on verso a set of verses in English headed "Palæ-Albion Liber, lectoribus sapientibus ac beneuolis salutem! nimum feueris Talionem", and the Errata. The printer's device and the colophon as above, Dd4 (verso blank). There is a woodcut at p. 157.

The Latin and the English versions of the poem are printed facing each other on opposite pages, with voluminous marginal notes. Sig. Dd4, containing the printer's device and colophon, is wanting in all but one of several copies that have been examined. It is undoubtedly very rare, so much so that in all catalogues the date is bracketed, and is frequently stated to be [1619]. The running head-line on the verso of each leaf of text is "Palæ-Albion".

Of all the long and dull chronological histories in verse to which the seventeenth century gave birth this is the longest and the dullest.

The work, A2-D4.

This work is very fully illustrated with thirty copper-plates, giving portraits of the saints and views appropriate to the different feast and fast days. The place for each plate is indicated by the words "Here the Plate" printed in the upper corner of the page opposite which the plate is to be placed. In three cases such indication occurs without any plate, viz.: Sig. E1 verso, "Upon The Festivall of Innocents Day"; Sig. F4 verso, "Vpon the Fast of Ash-wednesday"; Sig. F8 verso, "Vpon the Festivall of St. Barnabas". These omissions were supplied in the second edition.

Title as above printed in red and black within a border formed of printer's ornaments, A1 (verso blank). Eight lines of Latin verse "Votum Authoris", A2; on verso are three type-metal devices, the royal coat of arms, the Lion, and the Unicorn. Dedication to Charles II, A3-A5 (verso blank). "A Confolatory Proem. To His Sacred-Mother The Church-Militant", A6-a1. Introductory poem "On the Church-Militant", prayer "For the Church Militant", and Collect, a2-a4. "The Preface To The Legitimate Issue Of The Church of England, Grace and Glory" including a poem, a prayer, and a collect, a5-b6. Commendatory poems by D. Whitford, Alex. Brome, Benevolus (Edward Benlowes), T. F., H. Delaune, Tho. Fuller, and Al. Br(ome), b7-b11; on verso "A Catalogue of the Feasts and Fasts, According to the Order of the Church and the Method of this Book" printed in red and black. List of "The Compilers of The Common-Prayer Book of the Church of England", b12 (verso blank). "Errata", b13 (verso blank). The work, B1-Tt1. "A Catalogue of the Feasts & Fasts as they are either fixed to the Days of the several Moneths, or as they are moveable with reference to Easter", Tt2; on verso a table "To finde Easter for ever".

The illustrations in this edition number thirty-nine, being nine more than in the first edition. The subjects of the new plates are as follows, viz.: Cana, Advent, Massacre of the Innocents, Ash-Wednesday, The Trinity, The House of Prayer, St. Barnabas, St. Michael and the Dragon, and All Saints. In addition to these the plate representing "The nailing to the cross" in the first edition is cancelled and a view of the Crucifixion substituted; the portrait of St. John the Baptist in the first edition is cancelled and a plate substituted representing "Christ & John in Jordan"; the plate representing the Resurrection and the portrait of St. Matthias in the second edition are not the same as in the first. The remaining twenty-six illustrations, while they are the same as in the first edition, have been re-engraved, and in some cases reversed.

The whole work has been rewritten and enlarged. It subsequently went through many editions, to one of which, published in 1663, a portrait of the author engraved by Hertochs is prefixed.

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: A-T, in eights; one supplementary leaf without signature.

Preceding the title is a frontispiece engraved by Thomas Rawlins, a facsimile of which is given. It is preceded by a portrait of Stapyllton engraved by William Marshall. Title as above within a border formed of printer's ornaments,
A1 (verso blank). Dedication to Henry,
Marquis of Dorchester, A2-A3. "The

Preface", A4-A6. "The Life of Juvenal", A7-A8. The satires, B1-T8 (verso blank). "Errata", one unnumbered leaf without signature (verso blank). The versos of Sigs. I3, K5, L4, M2, M6, M8, P7, Q5, and R3, are blank.

Each satire is preceded by an "Argument" and followed by annotations. The portrait of Stapleton which precedes the volume comes in two different states. In one the crest in the upper left-hand corner is a lion rampant, and the inscription below reads as follows: "Robertus Stapyltonus Eques Auratus, Juvenalem, Musæum, Stradam, è Peregrinis Anglos Suosq Plusquam Interpres Reddidit. R. R." In the other the crest in the upper left-hand corner is a pair of wings instead of a lion, and the inscription reads as follows: "Robertus Stapylltonus Eques
Generosus Juvenalem et Musæum Anglis, Virumq Sibi, Plusquam Interpres Reddidit. R. R." The last described is the earlier state, and should be in this volume.

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: One leaf without signature; A-D7, in eights.

"The meaning of the Frontispice," one leaf. Preceding the title-page is a frontispiece engraved by Cockson. It represents a boy scourging a peacock which he holds in his left hand. Title as above with an ornamental device preceding the imprint, A1 (verso blank). Dedication to William Seymour, Earl of Hartford, A2 (verso blank). "The Epif-tle to the Reader", A3-A5. "A Few Lines, To Small Purpose, against the Scandalous Asperfions, that are either maliciously, or ignorantly cast vpon the Poets and Poems of these Times", A6-A8 (verso blank). The poem, B1-D7.

With exception of the title, each page is printed between head and foot bands made of type-metal ornaments.

Copies exist with the dedication to Sir Thomas Richardson.

853 TAYLOR, JOHN.

855 TAYLOR, JOHN.

A | Memorial | Of All The | English Monarchs, be | ing in number 150. from | Brute to King James. | In Heroicall Verfe,
By | Iohn Taylor. | Printed at London 1622.

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: A, two leaves ; B-F6, in eights.

Title as above within a border formed of fourteen of the small woodcut portraits of kings with which the work is illustrated, A1 (verso blank). Dedication in verse to Lionel, Lord Cranfield, A2. The work in verse, B1-F6 (verso blank). The work is liberally interspersed with small woodcut portraits very roughly engraved, one or more being printed on each page.

Lowndes says that there should be here a full-length portrait of the author, by Cockson. S. L. Sotheby, in the Bliss Catalogue, seems to doubt its existence, but the Dictionary of National Biography speaks of it, not mentioning the artist. The British Museum Catalogue says, "Wants portrait of author." Lowndes's description of it would make it seem to resemble closely the frontispiece of "Taylor's Motto", 1621, ascribed to Cockson.

856 TAYLOR, JOHN.

A | Memorial | Of All The | English Monarchs | being in number 151, | from Brute to | King | Charles. | In Heroicall Verfe by
| Io. Taylor. | London | Printed by Iohn Beale, | for James Bowler, 1630.

Octavo. Second edition.

COLLATION: A-G, in eights.

One blank leaf, A1. Title as above surrounded by fourteen crude woodcut portraits of monarchs, A2 (verso blank). Dedication in verse to Lionel Cranfield, Earl of Middlesex, A3-A4 (verso blank). The work, A5-G4 (verso blank). "This Author Hath newly caused all his works (being about 60.) to bee print into one Volume, the Names of all which Works are fet downe in this following Catalogue", G5-G6 (verso blank). Two blank leaves, G7-G8.

In the present volume the ending of the poem on King James is altered to cover that monarch's death, and six lines on King Charles are added. Some copies of this edition seem to have had a full-length portrait of Charles I, but whether it belonged in the book is uncertain.

Inserted between A1 and A2 is a title (a facsimile of which is given) engraved by T. Cockson representing a sail stretched between two oars; at the top in a panel supported by dolphins is a small sailboat in which are three figures, and in the lower part is a half-length portrait of the author in an oval; on the sail is the title. "To The Most High, Most Mighty, And Most Ancient Producer, Seducer, And Abuser Of Mankind, The World", A3-A4; on verso a poem entitled "Errata, or Faults to the Reader" and a commendatory verse by Abraham Viell. Other commendatory verses by Thomas Brewer, Respon, T. G. (2), R. H., Robert Branthwaite, Richard Leigh, William Branthwaite and Thomas Dekker, A5. Notwithstanding the name of Gervase Markham on the title, the translation was claimed by Robert Tofte, who complained in his edition of the "Blazon of Jealousy", 1615, that it had been printed without his knowledge in another man's name. The work was reprinted anonymously in 1611, under the title "Seven Planets governing Italy", with the addition of three elegies.

Epigrams: | Divine | And | Moral. | By | Sir Thomas Vrchard,
Knight. | *London: | Printed by Bernard Alsop, and Thomas Faw-
cet, in the | Yeare, 1641.*

Quarto. First edition.

COLLATION: A-I, in fours.

Facing the title is a full-length portrait of the author, engraved by G. Glover, having at the foot these verses:

"Of him whose shape this Picture hath design'd

Vertue and learning represent the Mind.
W. S."

One blank leaf, A1. Title as above, A2 (verso blank). "To the Right Honourable James Lord Marquis of Hamilton", etc., A3-A4. Epigrams in three books, B1-12 verso. At foot of I2, "The Erratas". "The Printers to the Reader", I3 recto. Imprimatur, March 15, 1640, I3 verso. One blank leaf, I4.

Copies of this issue of the first edition are exceedingly rare, as is also the portrait in its first state, bearing the date 1641, and without the Greek inscription which occurs in the second published state.

In 1646, the unsold copies were reissued with the following title:

Epigrams, | Divine | And | Morall. | By | Sir Thomas Urchard, Knight.
| London, | Printed for VVilliam Leake, and are to be sold | at his Shop in Chancery Lane neere the | Roules. 1646.

In the reissue of 1646 generally occurs the second state of the full-length portrait by Glover. In this state the author's name is altered from "Urchard" to "Urquhart"; he is called Baron of Ficherie instead of Foes-Tide, and the engraver's inscription reads "G. Glover ad vivum delineavit et sculp 1645.", while in its first state it reads "delinavit et sculp. 1641." A line of Greek extends along the right arm, and a single Greek word is placed over the wreath which is presented to the author by a figure at the left of the print. These Greek inscriptions do not appear in the first state.

An infinitely rarer portrait of the author is found in a few copies of this edition. Only three have been recorded—one in the Huth library, one in the library of Robert Hoe, and the third now in the collection of a member of the Committee. It is also by Glover, and engraved with evident care, and its rarity would suggest that it was inserted by the author in a few presentation copies only. It represents the author seated on a mound above the Castalian fountain and being crowned with laurel by the nine muses who with Apollo surround him; above, with outspread wings, is Pegasus. The plate bears the following inscriptions over the heads of the muses: "For Iudgment, Learning, witt."; "For Invention, sweetnefe, Stile."; and below, "G. Glo: figu: et sculp." A facsimile is given.

In an article published in the "Foreign Quarterly Review", vol. xxxi,
p. 314, this translation is characterized as "an instance of penetration into the spirit of a foreigner, which is perhaps not to be matched by any other book in the world".

A "Third Book," translated by Urquhart, appeared in 1693, and the work was finished by Peter Motteux in 1708.

beasts of the | earth, and maketh us wifer then the fowls | of heaven ? | London, Printed for Henry Crips, and Lodo- | wick
Lloyd, next to the Castle in Cornhil, \ and in Popes-head Alley.
 1655.

Octavo. First edition of the two parts.

COLLATION: A-G, in eights; A, four leaves; B-H4, in eights.

Title as above, A1 (verso blank). "Authoris (de fe) Emblema" in sixteen lines of Latin verse, A2 verso (recto blank). "The Dedication" in verse, A3 (verso blank). Poems, A4-G7. One blank leaf, G8. Two blank leaves, A1-A2. "The Authors Preface To the following Hymns", dated at the end "Newton by U'sk, near Sketh-rock, Septem. 30. 1654", A3-B4 (verso blank). Quotations from the Bible, B5-B6 recto. Dedication in verse "To my most merciful, my most loving, and dearly loved Redeemer, the ever bleffed, the onely Holy and Just One, Jesus Christ, the Son of the living God, And the sacred Virgin Mary", B6 verso to B8; on verso twelve lines of prefatory verse beginning "Vain Wits and eyes". Poems, C1-H2. "An Alphabetical Table, Containing the severall Titles of all the Hymns or Sacred Poems in these two Books", H3-H4.

The first part of this volume (signatures A-G) consists of the unsold copies of the first edition, last described, with the engraved title cancelled, and a new printed title inserted. Signature B, however, appears to have been entirely reprinted so as to admit of changes in the poem on "Isaacs Marriage". The running-title in this reprinted sheet is "Silix Scintillans" instead of "Silex Scintillans" as in the rest of the volume. The changes in the poem on "Isaacs Marriage" are here noted, in order to aid in distinguishing between the two editions.

There also exist several minor variations in the way of spelling, etc. The above noted changes do not appear in all copies, some copies of the first part existing as originally issued, bound up with the second part of 1655, either with the engraved title which was first issued, or with the printed title, dated 1655.

The dedication in the second part "To my most merciful, my most loving, and dearly loved Redeemer", etc., is in verse, in two parts, and the first stanza is identical with "The Dedication" of the first part.

The collation as here given agrees with that of the Rowfant copy. The British Museum has a copy made up differently. The verses, "Authoris (de fe) Emblema", as well as the engraved title to the first part, are cancelled; as the new title has no Emblem, the verses are inappropriate. "The Dedication" in one stanza is also cancelled. The preliminary matter, preface, dedication, and verses ("Vain Wits and eyes"), which in the copy described above immediately precede the second part, have been transferred to the front of the volume, and the two parts of the poems follow in succession. The signatures run as follows: A, four leaves (the first blank); B, eight leaves; A, five leaves (A4-A8); B-G, in eights; C-H4, in eights.

This leaves the signatures in rather a mixed condition, but it is, perhaps, a more logical arrangement of the text.

In 1847 Pickering published an edition of "Silex Scintillans" with some selections from Vaughan's last volume, "Thalia Rediviva", and a biographical sketch of the author by the Rev. H. F. Lyte. The editor, however, failed to notice the changes in the poem on "Isaacs Marriage" described above, and reprinted it from the first version.

Vaughan's complete works were reprinted in Dr. A. B. Grosart's "Fuller Worthies Library" in 1871, and in 1896 an edition of his poetical works, in two volumes, was edited for the "Muses' Library", by Mr. E. K. Chambers, with an introduction by the Rev. H. C. Beeching.

lished by Humphrey Mofeley, A1-A8.

The address to the reader with which the work is introduced is dated
"Newton by Vsk in South-wales. April 17. 1652".

The catalogue of Moseley's publications was probably printed for insertion in all his books. It contains books which did not appear until 1658, and was undoubtedly not printed before that date. (See note to No. 899.)

This work has been attributed to Captain Thomas Whitchcot, but is generally ascribed to Thomas Weaver, whose likeness the print is supposed to represent.

The epistle "To my Lady" and the "Advertisement to the Reader" appear for the first time in this edition. It appears from a contemporary manuscript of Waller's poems in the possession of Mr. Waller of Beaconsfield that the epistle was not intended for this or any other printed edition of the poems, but was originally written for a MS. copy presented to Lady Sophia Bertie, daughter of the Earl of Lindsey.

The first part of the "Advertisement to the Reader" reads as follows: "Reader. This parcell of exquisite Poems, have pass'd up and downe through many hands amongst persons of the best quality, in loose imperfect Manuscripts, and there is lately obtruded to the world an adulterate Copy, surreptitiously and illegally imprinted, to the derogation of the Author, and the abuse of the Buyer. But in this Booke they appear in thir pure originals and true genuine colors".

The claim here put forth that this edition was printed from a more perfect manuscript, and that the earlier one was an "adulterate" and "sur-reptitious" one, is certainly peculiar in view of the fact that both are composed of the identical sheets, up to and including p. 92 (Sig. G6), the only difference being the new title-page, the added preliminary leaves, and six new poems at the end, and that both were the work of the same printer, Thomas Walkley.

In this edition, or more properly issue, the following six poems are added, together with an index to the volume, the whole forming a sort of supplement: "Loves Farewell", "To Chloris" ("Chloris! what's eminent wee know"), "On a painted Lady with ill teeth", "On a Girdle", "On Mr. Iohn Fletchers Playes", "To Chloris upon a favour received". The paging of this supplementary part is continuous with the first part, beginning with p. 93, but the signature letter is "I", consisting of four leaves which are inserted between G6 and G7. The volume ends with the speeches, G7 to H8.

The volume contains eighty poems in all. A few had appeared in earlier volumes, generally commendatory of the work of other poets. One poem, "On Mr. Iohn Fletcher's Playes", was written for the first collected edition of Beaumont and Fletcher, which did not appear until 1647.

This edition, although a close copy of the last in collation and appearance, has been entirely reprinted: the title, upon examination, will show several differences, such as the word "Poems", which is printed in noticeably smaller type; the line "Printed and Publifhed according to Order" is also in smaller type, and the capital "P's" are from a different font; in the imprint the words "Princes Arms", as in this edition, are spelled "Princes Armes" in the second edition. In the other leaves many changes will be noticed. The spelling is corrected throughout, chiefly by dropping redundant letters such as the final "e", many of the typographical errors are corrected, etc., proving conclusively that it was reprinted throughout. In all copies of this edition that have been examined the speeches are omitted.

This edition contains exactly the same matter as the last one, including the epistle "To my Lady" and the "Advertisement to the Reader", but with the speeches added at the end. The text has been carefully revised and most of the errors of the three preceding editions are corrected. If any of the four editions published in 1645 can be said to have been authorized by Waller, this is certainly the one. Copies occur also on large and thick paper.

"This has been styled 'one of the most graceful pieces of adulation ever offered by poetry to power.' A few years later Waller wrote a panegyric to Charles II, who frankly told the author that he thought it inferior to Cromwell's. 'Sir,' was the reply, 'we poets never succeed so well in writing truth as in fiction.'"—An Appendix to The Rowfant Library. London, 1900.

There is an edition of the poem in folio, of which only two copies are known. It is recorded in Mr. Drury's edition of Waller as follows:

A Panegyrick | To My | Lord Protector | By | A | Gentleman | That |
Loves the Peace, Union, and Prosperity | Of The | English Nation. |

Mr. Drury seems to think that there is no doubt that the text shows the quarto to be the first, and possibly pirated, edition.

At the end of the poem is a note as follows: "The Reader is desired to take notice, that a false Copy of these verses on St. James's Park was surreptitiously and very imperfectly printed in one sheet, without the Authors knowledge and consent, several lines being there left out."

Mr. Drury remarks that he has not met with any traces of this surreptitious copy.

In this edition three poems which were included in the earlier editions are omitted, and eleven new ones added; the volume therefore contains eighty-eight poems. The three omitted are: "To Mrs. Braughton, servant to Sacharissa", "Love's Farewell", and lines "To Chloris" ("Chloris! what's eminent, we know", &c.). The eleven added are: "To Chloris" ("Chloris! since first our calm of peace", &c.), "On St. James's Park as lately improved by his Majesty", "To Sir William D'Avenant upon his two first books of Gondibert", "To my worthy friend Mr. Wase, the translator of Gratius", "To the King, upon his Majesty's happy return", "To my Lady Morton on New-Years day, 1650, at the Louver in Paris", "Of a fair lady playing with a snake", "To his worthy friend Mr. Evelyn, upon his translation of Lucretius", "Upon a war with Spain, and a fight at sea", "Epitaph to be written under the Latin inscription upon the tomb of the only son of the Lord Andover", "To the Queen, upon her Majesty's birth-day, after her happy recovery from a dangerous sickness". Most of these had already appeared in print, either separately or in connection with the works in whose praise they are written.

In the address of the printer to the reader, Waller appears to repudiate all four editions of 1645; and as he was absent from England at the time they appeared, and as an interval of nineteen years was permitted to elapse before he consented to republish the poems, it is probable that the earlier editions were all surreptitious and that the present is the first authorized one. While this is really the fifth edition it has been thought better to follow the usual manner of numbering the editions.

Title as above within double ruled lines, A1 (verso blank). Poems, B1-C2 (verso blank). The verso of B3 is blank.

This volume contains the following poems: "Of Divine Love", "Of Divine Poesie", "Of the paraphrase on the Lords Prayer, written by Mrs. Wharton", and "Some reflections of his upon the several petitions in the same prayer". The first of these had already appeared in the 1682 edition of Waller's poems, and the second was included in a volume of "Poems by several hands, and on several occasions. Collected by N. Tate", which was published in the same year as the volume under review — 1685. The volume is very rare, only four copies being known at the present time.

Facing the title is a portrait of Waller at the age of seventy-six engraved by Vander Banck. It was probably preceded by a blank leaf, A1. Title as above printed in red and black within double ruled lines,

A2 (verso blank). "The Printer to the Reader", A3-A4; on verso the "Postscript". Poems, B1-V7 recto. Table of contents, V7 verso to V9. The verso of T7 is blank.

This, the last edition published during Waller's lifetime, includes all that had appeared in the edition of 1682, together with the contents of the "Divine Poems" of 1685, and five new poems as follows: "Of her Royal Highness Mother to the Prince of Orange, and of her portraict written by the late Dutchess of York while She lived with Her"; "Epitaph on Sir George Speke"; "Of her Majesty on New-Year's day 1683"; "A presage of the ruin of the Turkish Empire presented to his Majesty on his birth-day"; "Of the last verses in the book".

In some copies of this edition a separate leaf is found inserted after the table of contents, with a poem "To his Majesty, upon his motto, Beati Pacifici, occasioned by the taking of Buda, 1686".

The Imprimatur as follows: "Licensed, Sept. 26. 1689", A1 (recto blank). Title as above within double ruled lines, A2 (verso blank). Preface, A3-a4 (verso blank). The Maid's Tragedy and Poems, B1-F7. Reprint of the introductory epistle "To my Lady" from the first edition of 1645, F8-G1. Speeches, G2-H6. "Books lately Printed", H7. One blank leaf, H8.

It appears from the prefatory note to the next number that this collection was unauthorized by Waller's heirs or his legal representatives. It is said that the manuscript had been lent by Dr. Birch to Dr. Francis Atterbury, and it is generally believed that the long and highly laudatory preface is from his hand. The volume contains about twenty pieces. Two of them, "To Chloris" and "On a painted lady with ill teeth", had appeared in two of the editions of 1645 and had been omitted from every edition since. "A Panegyrick to My Lord Protector" had been published separately in 1655, and the lines on the death of Cromwell had also been published, but for obvious reasons Waller had never included them in any edition of his poems. Both are reprinted here. Most of the remaining poems which form the collection had never appeared in print before.

Octavo. First authorized edition.

COLLATION: Two leaves without signatures; B-H2, in eights.

Title as above within double ruled lines, one leaf (verso blank). Introductory note, one leaf (verso blank). Half-title "The Maids Tragedy Alter'd By Mr. Waller", B1 (verso blank). The play, beginning with a prologue, B2 (misprinted F2) to D7. Miscellaneous poems, D8-F7 recto. Two speeches by Waller in the House of Commons, ending with the errata, F7 verso to H2.

The prefatory note to this volume reads as follows: "Most of the following Pieces, being unfinish'd were never intended to be publish'd; but that a Person, who had borrowed a Manuscript Copy of them, took upon him to print them. The Copy from which they were printed, was very Imperfect; and there being noe means left to suppress them, it was thought fit to suffer them to be more correctly printed from the last and truest Copies". As mentioned in the note to the preceding number, the "person" referred to is supposed to have been Dr. Francis Atterbury.

The volume contains fifteen pieces. "The Maid's Tragedy Altered", from which it takes its title, had been published in the surreptitious edition, as had also several of the other pieces. Five poems appear here for the first time.

The lines "No Forrest, Cave, nor Savage Den", which had been printed separately in the previous volume under the heading "Some Verses that seem to be a part of the foregoing Play", are here restored to their proper place in "The Maid's Tragedy Altered".

A2 (verso blank). "The Printer to the Reader", A3-A4; on verso the "Postscript". Poems, B1-V6 recto. Table of contents, V6 verso to V8.

The contents of this edition correspond exactly with those of the edition of 1686.

Octavo. Sixth edition (second issue).

COLLATION: A, four leaves; B-V, in eights; two leaves without signatures; B-H2, in eights.

One blank leaf, A1. Title as above printed in red and black within double ruled lines, A2 (verso blank). "The Printer to the Reader" and "Postscript", A3-A4. Poems, B1-V6 recto, ending with the words "The End of the First Part". Table of contents, V6 verso to V8. The remaining portion of the volume consists of "The Maid's Tragedy Altered. With some other Pieces", originally published in 1690, the collation of which we have already given.

This so-called sixth edition consists merely of the unsold copies of the sixth edition of the year previous, to which are added the unsold copies of "The Maid's Tragedy Altered" of 1690. The first title-page has been cancelled and a new one inserted, and two other changes have been made in order to make the volume homogeneous. At the foot of Sig. V6 recto the word "Finis" in the edition of 1693 has been changed to "The End of the First Part"; and at the foot of Sig. V8 verso a catch-word has been added. That this edition consists of the unsold sheets of the previous one is proved by the fact that pp. 223 and 253 in both cases have the numbers printed on the wrong sides of the pages.

The portrait by Van der Banck is omitted in this issue.

Octavo. Seventh edition.

COLLATION: Four leaves without signatures; B-V, in eights; (u), one leaf; (u) again, four leaves; X-Ee3, in eights.

Facing the title is a portrait of Waller at the age of twenty-three engraved by Van der Banck. Title as above within double ruled lines, one leaf (verso blank). "The Printer to the Reader" followed by the "Postscript", two leaves. Poems, B1-V6 recto, ending with the words "The End of the First Part". Table of contents, V6 verso to V8. Title as follows within ruled lines, with the printed signature (u), verso blank:

The | Second Part | of | Mr. Waller's | Poems. | Containing, | His Alteration of the | Maids Tragedy, | And whatever of his is yet unprinted: To- | gether with some other Poems, Speeches, | &c. that were printed severally, and ne- | ver put into the First Collection of his | Poems. — Siquis tamen haec quoque Siquis Captus amore leget. | London, | Printed by T. W. for Tho. Bennet, at the Half-Moon in St. Paul's Church-Yard, 1705.

"The Preface To the Maids Tragedy, &c.", (u)1-(u)4. The play, followed by the remaining poems, X1-Cc5 recto. Speeches, Cc5 verso to Ee3.

The first part of this volume is an exact reprint of the editions of 1686 and 1693. Then follows a copy of the title to "The Second Part of Mr. Waller's Poems", which originally appeared in 1690. This division includes all the poems which appeared in that edition with one exception, together with all the poems that were published in "The Maid's Tragedy Altered", 1690. The omitted poem is "Long and short life".

Up to this point all the editions described, beginning with that of 1664, bear a close resemblance to each other. The address of "The Printer to the Reader" is the same in all, the "Postscript" being added in 1682. New poems were added from time to time, but each edition copied so closely the one preceding that the poems nearly always fell on the same page. With the next edition to be described, however, some change is made in the contents and arrangement, though even there an attempt is made to follow the stereotyped form.

The portraits of Ben Jonson and John Fletcher bear the name of George Vertue as engraver. The others, though unsigned, are probably his work.

Although this is the handsomest edition of Waller's Poems which had been published up to this date, little or no attempt at editing was done to make it more correct. The Life is the first which appeared, and is the main source from which later editors drew their material. Only two new poems are added, viz.: "Song" ("Chloris farewell; I now must go") and "Of the fear of God. In two cantos". The lines ending the two poems "Upon a war with Spain, and a fight at Sea" and "On a picture of a fair youth taken after he was dead", which had been omitted from all editions until 1690, and had then been published separately in "The second part of Mr. Waller's Poems", are here added to the respective poems to which they belong. Three poems which originally appeared in 1690 and were reprinted in 1705 are omitted, viz.: "Long and short life", "To Mr. Creech on his translation of Lucretius", and "Pride".

There are copies of this edition on large paper.

Half-title to "Observations On Some Of Mr. Waller's

Poems", Nnn 1 (verso blank). The Observations, Nnn2-Aaaa2; on verso a short list of errata.

Facing the title is a full-page portrait of Waller engraved by Vertue after a painting by Kneller. Facing the dedication is an engraving of a portrait-bust of Lady Margaret Cavendish Harley, and at the end a full-page engraving of various coins. The volume is further embellished with thirteen engraved head-bands, most of them containing portraits, and numerous initial letters and tail-pieces. Facing p. 450 is a full-page engraving of Waller's tomb.

This edition, while it is the first edited, is also the most sumptuous ever published. It contains all the poems which had hitherto appeared, to which the editor has added four new ones, viz.: "Ad Comitem Monumetensem de Bentivoglio suo", "To a person of Honor upon his incomparable, incomprehensible poem, intitled The British Princes", "To Mr. Granville (now Lord Lansdown) on his verses to K. James II.", and "The first act of the Tragedy of Pompey translated from the French of Monsieur Corneille", which had been published separately in 1664. The titles to many of the poems which had been changed in the edition of 1664 are restored to their original form of 1645.

Waller's letters are added for the first time, and the various prefaces to the earlier editions are reprinted. Finally, the information given in the notes is so full and accurate that little has been left to the research or correction of later editors.

Speeches and letters, including the prefaces to the editions of the poems published in 1645, 1664, and 1690, M9-O3 recto. Epitaph on Waller's monument in Beaconsfield Churchyard, O3 verso to O4 (verso blank). Half-title "Observations on some of Mr. Waller's Poems", O5 (verso blank). The observations, O6-N2 (verso blank).

Facing the dedication is a portrait of Lady Margaret Cavendish Harley.

Facing p. 294 is an engraving of Waller's monument.

At the end is a folding plate containing reproductions of six medals in honor of Charles II and Queen Catharine.

This is a reprint in smaller and cheaper form of the edition last described. It contains exactly the same matter, but omits the engraved ornaments. It was reprinted in 1744, in twelvemo, by Foulis of Glasgow, and in 1758, and remained the standard text until Percival Stockdale issued his edition in 1772.

943 WALLER, EDMUND, and GODOLPHIN, SIDNEY.

The | Passion | Of | Dido | For | Æneas. | As It Is | Incomparably exprest in the | Fourth Book of Virgil. | Translated | By | Edmund Waller | & | Sidney Godolphin Esq<sup>rs</sup>. | — Vbi quid datur otī | Illudo chartis: hoc est mediocribus illis | Ex vitiiis unum — Horat. I. Sat. 4<sup>a</sup>. | London Printed for Humphrey Moseley at the | Prince's Armes in St Paul's | Church-yard. 1658.

Octavo.

COLLATION: A, six leaves; B-F4, in eights; a, eight leaves; b, two leaves.

Title as above within a single ruled line, A1 (verso blank). "The Argument", A2-A5 (verso blank). The poem, A6-

F3 (verso blank). Blank leaf, F4. "Books Printed for Humphrey Moseley", a1-b2.

The volume is printed throughout with a type-metal band at the head and foot of each page. The first six leaves have no printed signatures, but as they are followed by Sig. B, it has been thought better to indicate them with the letter A.

Some copies have inserted a frontispiece of Dido on a funeral pyre.

Title as above within ruled lines, one leaf (verso blank). The poems, second leaf, and A<sub>1</sub>-D<sub>2</sub> (verso blank).

The leaf following the title was probably not printed until after the rest of the volume was in type. It contains a poem by Sir John Cotton "To the Memory of my Noble Friend, Mr. Waller", and is paged 1 and 2. The following leaf, Sig. A<sub>1</sub>, begins again with page 1 and the heading "Poems, &c.". In addition to the poem by Sir John Cotton, the volume contains eight other poems by Sir Tho. Higgons, T. Rymer, Monsieur St. Evremont (in French, with a translation by T. R.), George Granville (Lord Lansdowne), Bevill Higgons, Aphra Behn, one anonymous, and one by T. R. "To Mr. Riley, Drawing Mr. Waller's Picture".

Duodecimo. First edition.

COLLATION: A–H<sub>11</sub>, in twelves.

Facing the title is an engraved caricature portrait of the author crowned with a laurel wreath, and standing before a table on which he is writing. At the foot are the following verses:

“In’s own defence the Author writes
Because while this foul Maggot bites
He nere Can rest in quiet,
Which makes him make Soe sad a face

Heed beg your worship or your Grace
Vnsight unseen to buy it.”

Title as above within single ruled lines, A<sub>2</sub> (verso blank). Dedication “To the Honoured Mr. H. D. Head-Master of the Free-School in D—, in the County of D—”, A<sub>3</sub>–A<sub>4</sub> recto. “The Epistle To The Reader”, A<sub>4</sub> verso to A<sub>9</sub>; on the verso is a list of “Books lately published by J. Dunton”. Poems, A<sub>10</sub>–H<sub>11</sub>.

The poems in this little volume are mostly doggerel, as the titles of a few will testify: "On a Maggot", "A Pindaricque, On the Grunting of a Hog", "On a Cow's Tail", etc. Each poem is followed by notes. The preface contains an allusion to Bunyan and "The Pilgrim's Progress".

It is stated in the Huth catalogue that "No copy of the first edition seems to be known. The second was published in 1671". The edition published in 1671, "with additions", is generally but erroneously called the first, and differs from the above in the absence of the "Catalogue of the Songs and Poems" at the end, as well as in certain omissions from, and additions to, the text.

J. W. Ebsworth made his reprint of 1875 from the second, and does not mention this edition. Mr. Ebsworth has succeeded in fixing the authorship of most of the songs, and seeks to identify the editor as Captain William Hicks, who was concerned with several publications of a similar character in subsequent years.

COLLATION: A-H, in eights.

Facing the title is the Imprimatur as follows: "Licensed, Roger L'Estrange, April 21, 1671", A1 verso (recto blank). Title as above in red and black within double ruled lines, A2 (verso blank). A facsimile is given. The poems, A3-118.

This edition omits two poems which are to be found in the first, and has four additional ones.

It seems probable that the second edition was at least partly reprinted, as copies occur with slight verbal and typographical changes.

Title as above, having above the imprint an engraving on copper of the publisher's device—the "Half-Moon", A1 (verso blank). A facsimile is given. "These to his honoured Freind, the Author of this Book, upon his Westminster Drollery" signed "Ric: Mangie", A2. The poems, B1-K2.

According to a note in the copy formerly in The Rowfant Library of the late Frederick Locker-Lampson, the "second impression" appeared in 1672, on the last leaf of which is stated: "The Tunes to these and all other New Songs may be had at John Ford's shop at the Middle Temple Gate."

The work was reprinted, with excellent notes, by J. W. Ebsworth, in 1875.

 dication of Poefie", H2-H9. Errata, H10 (verso blank).

A second issue appeared in 1638, the only difference in the title-page being the changed date. In 1639 the work was reissued with a new title,—"The most pleasante historie of Albino and Bellama", etc. This title is engraved, and a printed title-page for the book seems wanting.
 In other respects, the issue of 1639 is like that of 1637.

Facing the title is a portrait of the Earl of Rochester by an anonymous engraver, a copy of the portrait engraved by White. Title as above within double ruled lines, one leaf (verso blank). ". . . The Memoirs Of The Life Of John Wilmot, Earl of Rochester. Written By Monſieur S<sup>t</sup> Evremont, in a Letter to her Grace the Dutcheſs of Mazarine. Tranſlated from the Original Manuſcript", a1-b8. Poems by the Earl of Rochester, Bb1-Bb8 and C1-K3. "An Alphabetical Table To the E. of Rochefter's Works", K4. Half-title "The Poetical Works Of The Right Honourable The Earl of Roscommon. With a Collection of Miscellaneous Poems by the Moſt Eminent Hands. Never before Printed", *aa1 (verso blank). Poems, ★aa2-★cc4 and Aa1- 112 verso to 114. The lower half of the last page is occupied with a list of five books "just Publish'd".

This same edition reappeared in the same year with a new title as follows:

The | Works | Of the | Right Honourable the Late Earls of | Rochester | And | Roscommon. | With | A Collection of Original Poems, | Translations, Imitations, &c. by | the most Eminent Hands. | To which is prefix'd, | Memoirs of the Earl of Rochester's Life, | by Mounfieur St. Evremont. In a Letter to | the Dutcheffs of Mazarine. | The Second Edition. | London: | Printed for Edmund Curll, at the Peacock without Temple-Bar. 1707.

This issue varies also in a few other particulars from the one first described. Following the title is an address "To The Reader" occupying a single leaf signed "A". The two following signatures, a and b, are the same in both. In the first issue the poems begin with "An Addition to the Satyr against Man", occupying two leaves (Sigs. Bb1 and Bb2; pp. 1-4). In the second issue Sig. Bb1 is cancelled and replaced by six leaves containing the poem complete, and headed "A Satyr against Man. Imitated from Monsieur Bolieu. (Never before Printed entire)." These six leaves are paged 1-12 and the first one is signed A2. In making this change it was impossible to make either the paging or the signatures run correctly. The remainder of the volume is exactly the same in both issues until the last page is reached, where, in place of the announcement of five books "just Publish'd", the second issue has only one book. It is to be noted that this advertisement is in the name of B. Bragg and not that of Edmund Curll, whose name appears as publisher on the title.

According to an article by Mr. Sidney Lee in the Dictionary of National Biography, the first edition of the Earl of Rochester's works to include the poems of the Earl of Roscommon appeared prior to 1702, a second edition being published in that year.

Friend, Mr. Julian, Principal Secretary

There are two distinct editions of this book, with title-pages differing only in minute particulars in the size of type in the imprint. The second edition, however, is made up quite differently, and collates A-K in eights, the last leaf, K8, being blank. In the first edition—after E4 which is paged 56—there seems to be something lacking, as the next leaf, F1, is paged 65, but referring to the second edition there is no break, the text being the same in both editions.

Burlesque rhyme was in fashion at this period, following the example set by Butler in his "Hudibras," and a poet could hardly publish a serious work but that it was immediately parodied by some one. The present collection of fifteen burlesque epistles was especially aimed at the translation of Ovid's Epistles published by Dryden, Flatman, Otway, Mrs. Behn, and others in the same year (see No. 330), and it was followed or answered by burlesques upon itself by Alexander Radcliffe, described in another part of this volume.

Twelve lines of verse entitled "The Frontespeice discovered" within a type-metal border, as follows, leaf one (recto blank):

" This spreading Vine, like thefe choyse
Leaves, invites
The Curious eye to taft her choyce Delights.
Thefe painefull Bees, presented to thy view,
Shewes th' Author works not for him-

Thefe hornefoot Satyres to their angry
Scourges:
And he that drawes his Sword againft
the Swarme
Of Waspes, is he, that laft, begins to ftorme."

Facing these lines is a frontispiece engraved by William Marshall, a facsimile of which is given. Title as above with a large type-metal band preceding the imprint, leaf two (verso blank). Dedication in verse to Francis Newport, leaf three (verso blank). "The Stationer to the Reader" in verse, leaf four (verso blank). The first part of the work consisting of 508 epigrams (misnumbered 504), B1-M2. One leaf (without signature), verso blank, and having on the recto at the top the running title "Wits Recreations" with a type-metal band, and in the centre the words "—Nihil hic nisi carmina defant," M3; followed by a blank leaf, M4. The second part of the volume consisting of 127 epitaphs (misnumbered 126), Aa1-Cc8. At the foot of Sig. Cc8 verso is the Imprimatur signed "Matth. Clay, Octob. 8. 1639." New title as follows within a type-metal border, A1 (verso blank):

Outlandish | Proverbs | Selected | By
Mr. G. H. | London, | Printed by T. P.
for Humphrey | Blunden; at the Caffe
in | Corn-hill. 1640.

The proverbs, 1025 in number (misnumbered 1032), A2-E3. One blank leaf E4.

It would be impossible to say how many of the epigrams and epitaphs contained in this volume appear here for the first time. The writing of such pieces was a favorite diversion of the poets of the period, and they were all laid under contribution by the compilers of this collection. In one or the other portion of the volume, nearly all the poets and dramatists of the time are mentioned. There are epigrams on Suckling, Sands, Habington, Wither, Beaumont and Fletcher, Jonson, Chapman, Shakespeare, Randolph, May, Middleton, Shirley, Massinger, Heywood, Goffe, and many others. Among the epitaphs is the celebrated one on Shakespeare by William Basse, beginning

"Renowned Spencer lye a thought more nigh
To learned Chaucer"—

Another is on "M. Washington, page to the Prince."

The G. H. who selected the "Outlandish Proverbs" was George Herbert, author of "The Temple". The present is the first edition of the proverbs. They were published in a second edition under the title of "Jacula Prudentium: or, Outlandish Proverbs" in 1651, and were reissued with Herbert's "Remains" in 1652 and reprinted in later editions. They were not included in subsequent editions of "Wits Recreations".

The editorship of the volume has sometimes been assigned to Sir John Mennis and James Smith.

ancholly humours. | Mart. Non cuique datur habere nafum. | London, | Printed by Thomas Cotes, for Humphry | Blunden at the Castle in Corn-Hill. 1641.

Octavo. Second edition.

COLLATION: Three leaves without signatures ; B-Z<sub>3</sub>, in eights.

Ten lines of verse entitled "The Frontespeice discovered" within a type-metal border, as follows, leaf one (recto blank) :

" This spreading Vine, like these choyce
Leaves invites
The Curteous eye to tast her choyce Delights.
This foole, that knave, stands here to
th' view of others,
To shew that in the book th'ave many brothers.
The Devious Horseman, wandring in this Maze,
Shewes Error, and her execrable wayes :
Whose brazen Insolence, and boldnesse urges
The horne-foot Satyres to their angry
Scourges :
And he that Drawes his Sword against
the Swarme
Of Waspes, is he, that lasht, begins to Storme."

Facing these lines is a frontispiece engraved by William Marshall, the same plate as in the first edition but with several alterations. For the purpose of comparison a facsimile is given. Title as above, leaf two; on the verso are eight lines of verse "Ad Lectorum". "The Stationer to the Reader" in verse, leaf three (verso blank). The first part of the work consisting of 624 epigrams (misnumbered 629), B1-O7; on the verso are the words "—Nihil hic nisi Carmina defunt" between type-metal bands. The second part of the work consisting of 161 epitaphs (misnumbered 160), O8-S6 (verso blank). "Fancies And Fantastickes", S7-Z<sub>3</sub> (verso blank).

Sigs. T<sub>3</sub> verso, T<sub>4</sub> verso, T<sub>5</sub> recto and T<sub>6</sub> recto are occupied by engraved plates representing intertwined ribbons or bands inscribed with love verses.

The variations between this edition and the first, as far as the preliminary matter is concerned, have already been noted. The number of epigrams, as well as of epitaphs, has been increased. The "Outlandish Proverbs" are omitted, and their place is taken by a new division entitled "Fancies and Fantastickes", which constitutes the principal difference between this and the earlier edition. This portion consists of riddles, rebuses, love poems, etc., drawn from the different poets of the time. Among them is an extremely incorrect version of Crashaw's celebrated poem "Wishes to his Supposed Mistress".

Octavo. Third edition.

COLLATION: A, four leaves; B-Z, in eights; Aa, four leaves.

Eight lines of verse entitled "Ad Lectorem", A2 (recto blank). It was probably preceded by a blank leaf, A1. Engraved title from the same plate as that used for the previous edition, but with the word "refined" added after the word "Recreations", the date of the last edition and the imprint at bottom erased, and the whole plate showing signs of wear, A3 (verso blank). Printed title as above within a border of printer's ornaments, A4 (verso blank). "The Stationer to the Reader", in verse, B1; on verso six lines of verse "On this Third Edition" and beginning "This last Edition of my Book", etc. The first part of the work, consisting of six hundred and thirty-six Epigrams (misnumbered six hundred and thirty), B2-N4; on verso a woodcut of Death with his hour-glass and dart, beneath which are two lines of Latin verse and the translation, forming a frontispiece to the succeeding portion of the volume. "Epitaphs", N5-R8 (verso blank). Half-title "Fancies and Fantasticks", S1 recto. The work, S1 verso to Aa4 (verso blank).

The copper-plate devices of intertwined ribbons bearing verses as described in the collation of the last edition appear here on S1 verso, S6 recto, and S8 recto; the work is further embellished with small woodcuts of hearts and other devices on S2 verso, S4 verso, S5 recto, and T7 recto, and larger ones of a woman's head in an oval on V4 recto, two shepherds, V6 recto, a Welshman, Y4 verso, an astronomical cut, Y7 recto, and a man with dancing bears, Z3.

The collation of this edition as given above is probably incorrect in that the leaf of verses entitled "Ad Lectorem" preceding the frontispiece has apparently been substituted for a leaf containing ten lines of verse and entitled "The Frontespeice discovered", as described in the previous editions of this work; however, only one copy of this edition was examined, and it was thought best to put it in, with this note, rather than to leave a gap in the description of the various editions.

Octavo. Fourth edition.

COLLATION: A-Z and Aa-Bb, in eights.

Preceding the title is a frontispiece engraved by William Marshall, the same plate as in the second edition, very roughly re-engraved; the wording in the centre compartment has been changed to read as follows: "Witt's Recreations refined Augmented, with Ingenious Conceites for the wittie, And Merrie Medicines for the Melancholie. See the next Page". The imprint reads, "Printed by M. S. fould by Edw: Archer in Little Brittain. 1654". Title as above within type-metal bands at top and bottom, and single lines on either side, A2 (verso blank). Eight lines of verse "Ad Lectorem", A3; on the verso "The Stationer to the Reader" in verse. The first part of the work, consisting of seven hundred and ten epigrams, A4-L3 recto, concluding with the words "— Nihil sic nifi Carmina defunt". On the verso of Sig. L3 is a woodcut of Death with his hour-glass and dart, beneath which are two lines of Latin and two of English verse; this forms a frontispiece to the succeeding portion of the volume. "Epitaphs", one hundred and ninety-three in number (misnumbered one hundred and sixty-three), L4-P4 (verso blank). Half-title "Fancies And Fantasticks", P5 recto. The work, P5 verso to Bb8. At the foot of the last page is the date, 1654, in large type.

In this edition each division of the work is again augmented. The last part, "Fancies And Fantasticks", includes among other additions Suckling's "Ballad of a Wedding", and is further enriched with numerous woodcut illustrations scattered through the text. On Sig. Bb7 is a copper-plate representing a man seated, reading, and spurning a globe with his foot. It illustrates the poem "A Farewell to Folly".

Octavo. Fifth edition.

COLLATION: A-Z and Aa-Dd, in eights.

Facing the title is the frontispiece engraved by Marshall, the same as in the edition last described and showing signs of considerable wear, the imprint changed to read, "Printed by M: Symmons and, S: Symmons. 1663". Title as above within single ruled lines, A2 (verso blank). Eight lines of verse "Ad Lectorem", A3; on the verso "The Stationer to the Reader" in verse. The first part of the work, consisting of seven hundred and ten epigrams, A4-L3 recto, concluding with the words "— Nihil lic nifi Carmina defunt". On the verso is a woodcut of Death with his hour-glass and dart, beneath which are two lines of Latin and two of English verse; this forms a frontispiece to the succeeding portion of the volume. "Epitaphs", one hundred and ninety-three in number (misnumbered one hundred and sixty-three), L4-P4 (verso blank). Half-title "Fancies And Fantasticks", P5 recto. The work, P5 verso to Dd8. At the foot of the last page is the date, 1663, in large type.

Up to and including Sig. Bb6 this edition is an exact transcript of the edition of 1654 last described. Then follow sixteen leaves (Sigs. Bb7-Dd6) containing poems that appear in this edition for the first time. Among them are included some imperfect copies of several of Waller's poems. The last two leaves of the volume (Sigs. Dd7 and Dd8) are exactly the same as the last two leaves of the fourth edition (Sigs. Bb7 and Bb8), including the copper-plate.

The work was again reprinted and issued in 1667, the collation being exactly the same as that given above for the edition of 1663, of which it is a paginary reprint; the engraved title is from the same plate, but has been retouched and strengthened, the date of 1663 being left; the printed title presents a few changes besides the imprint, and is as follows:

Recreation, | For | Ingenious Head-Pieces: | Or, A | Pleasant Grove |

This work is also dated on the verso of the last leaf. 1667. Still another edition was issued in 1683.

 ers", A3 (verso blank). Poem, A4-D2

A statement contained in the address "To the Christian Readers" which seems to imply that the author had previously published a volume of "Satyricall Effayes" has led to a belief that there had been an undiscovered edition of "Essayes and Satyres" prior to 1613. The statement is as follows: "Reader, for that in my booke of Satyricall Effayes I haue been deemed ouer Cynicall; to shew, that I am not wholly inclined to that Vaine: . . . I haue in honor of their Royall Solemnities, Published thefe short Epithalamiaes". This would seem to indicate that his "Abuses Stript, And Whipt: Or Satyricall Essayes" had already been published, yet the earliest edition of this work of which we know is dated 1613, one year later than the "Epithalamia".

The solution of the question undoubtedly lies in the fact that the date of the "Epithalamia" (1612) is given in "old style," and according to the present style should have been 1613. The title contains the statement that the marriage of the Princess Elizabeth to Frederick, Count Palatine, was celebrated February 14th, 1612, which is old style: the book was therefore published some time subsequent to February 14th, 1613, the date of the marriage it celebrates, while the "Abuses Stript and Whipt" (the "Satyricall Essayes" referred to), which was registered at Stationers Hall on January 16th, 1613 (or 1612 old style), was probably issued about that time, thus antedating the "Epithalamia" by at least a month.

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: A, eight leaves; a, four leaves; B-V, in eights.

One blank leaf, A1. Title as above with monogram of Francis Burton preceding the imprint, A2 (verso blank). The epistle dedicatory, "To himfelfe, G. W. witheth all happineffe", A3-A7 recto. "To the Readers", A7 verso to a1 recto. Epigrams, a1 verso to a3; on the verso a poem addressed "To the impartial Author" by Th: C. Table of contents and list of errata, a4. The poem, B1-T4. "Certaine Epigrams to the Kings moft excellent Maiefty, the Queen, the Prince, the Princeffe, & other Noble and Honorable perfonages, and friends to whom the Author gave any of his books", ending with six lines addressed "To the captious Reader", T5-V6. Two blank leaves, V7 and V8.

There were several editions of this book published in this year. Hazlitt notes four, but without any minute description of the variations. The Huth and Rowfant catalogues state that there were seven editions printed in 1613; while Mr. Sidgwick, editor of the edition published in "The Muses' Library" (1902), says there were five editions.

Mr. Sidgwick attempts to prove that there was an edition of "Abuses Stript And Whipt" published before 1613, but inasmuch as no copy of any edition previous to that date is known, its existence seems extremely doubtful. Of the several editions of 1613 the above described differs materially from the other two seen by the compilers of this work. It alone is paged, and also contains a long list of "errata", which are corrected in the other editions that have come before them.

Two blank leaves, A1 and A2. Title as above, with the bookseller's monogram preceding the imprint, A3 (verso blank). The epistle dedicatory "To him-felfe, G. W. wisheth all-happineffe", A4-A8 (verso blank). "To the Reader", B1-B2. Five introductory epigrams, B3-B4. "To the Impartiall Author" by Th. C., B5 recto. Table of contents, B5 verso to B6 (verso blank). Three introductory poems, "The Occasion. Of this worke", "An Introduction", and "Of Man", B7-C8 (verso blank). First book of satires, D1-K4. Half-title "The Second Booke. Of The Vanitie, Inconflancie, weakneffe, and Prefumption of Men", K5 (verso blank). "Precatio", K6. Satires, K7-T6 (verso blank). "The Scourge", T7-V6. "Certaine Epigrammes to the Kings most excellent Maieftie, the Queene, the Prince, the Princeffe, and other Noble and Honourable Perfonages, and friends to whom the Author gaue any of his bookes" ending with six lines of verse addressed "To the captious Reader", V7-X8.

There is another edition with the same collation and an exact reprint of the above, but showing from many changes in the form of the capital letters that it is a distinct edition. A distinguishing difference easily noted is the word "Vanitie" on the half-title to the second book, which in the edition noticed is printed "Vanity", and the word "weakneffe" with "VV". Mr. Sidgwick argues in favor of the first edition of "Abuses Stript and Whipt" having been issued in 1611, but admits that no copy of such an edition is known. The compilers of this catalogue are not convinced that any such edition ever existed, and believe the error is accounted for in the note to "Epithalamia", No. 1014.

This edition of "Abuses Stript And Whipt" is frequently bound together with copies of "A Satyre" and "The Shepherds Hunting" published in the same year, and generally has prefixed a half-length portrait of the author, engraved by W. Holle, in an oval with six lines of verse underneath, signed "Sr. T. I.", followed by two lines in Latin, signed "I. M."

The date 1611 on this portrait which appears first in this edition has had much to do with the theory that there was an edition of "Abuses Stript And Whipt" published in that year. The portrait itself is an interesting specimen of Holl's, or Holle's, work as an engraver, and is the earliest portrait of Wither.

Other editions were published in 1615 (according to Lowndes, two in this year) and 1616, and the work was included in the "Workes", 1620, and "Juvenilia", 1622 and 1633. Many bibliographers say some copies of this edition have the word "written" on the title instead of "dedicated." The compilers of this work have never seen or heard of such a copy. The word "written" is used in the reprint occurring in Juvenilia of 1633.

Octavo. Second edition.

COLLATION: A-F, in eights.

Two blank leaves with the printed signatures A and A2. Title as above within a border formed of printer's ornaments, A3 (verso blank). "The Satyre To The Meere Courtiers" and "To The Honest Courtiers", A4-A6 recto. "To The Kings Most Excellent Maiesty", A6 verso to F7 (verso blank). The poem is subscribed at the end, "Your Maiesties most loyall Subiect and yet Prifoner in the Marthalfey". Blank leaf, F8.

The poem is printed throughout between type-metal bands at the head and foot of each page.

1022 WITHER, GEORGE.

The | Shepherds | Hunting: | Being, | Certaine Eglogs | written during the time of the | Authors Imprifonment in the Marthalfey. | By | George Wither, | Gentleman. | London: | Printed by Thomas Snodham | for George Norton, and are to be sold | at the signe of the red-Bull, neere | Temple-barre. | 1615.

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: A-H, in eights.

One blank leaf with the printed signature A at the foot of recto. Title as above within border formed of printer's ornaments, A2 (verso blank). Dedication "To Those Honoured, Noble, And Right Vertuous Friends, my Vifitants in the Marthalfey: And, To All Other, My Vnknowne Favourites, who eyther priuately or publiquesly wished me well in my imprifonment", A3-A8 (verso blank).

The poem, B1-H1 (verso blank). "A Postscript To the Readers" in prose, H2-H7 (verso blank). One blank leaf, H8. The verso of Sig. E3 is blank, and the next eclogue (the fourth) is dedicated to William Browne, the author of "Britania's Pastorals". Each page is ornamented at the top and bottom with a type-metal band.

Mr. Sidgwick, in his bibliographical list of Wither's earlier writings, calls this the first edition, and says, "another edition was issued in the same year with the same title-page", but fails to notice any mark to distinguish between the two editions. "The Shepherds Hunting" was reprinted in the "Workes", 1620; in "Juvenilia", 1622 and 1633; by Sir Egerton Brydges in 1814; and by Southey in 1831.

1023 WITHER, GEORGE.

The | Shepheards | Hunting: | Being, | Certaine Eglogues written du- | ring the time of the Authors | Imprifonment in the | Marthalfey. | By | George Wyther, | Gentleman. | London, | Printed by W. White for George | Norton, and are to be sold at | the signe of the red Bull neere | Temple-barre. 1615.

Octavo. Third edition (?).

COLLATION: A-H7, in eights.

One blank leaf, A1. Title as above within a border formed of printer's ornaments, A2 (verso blank). Dedication "To Those Honoured, Noble, and right Vertuous Friends, my Vifitants in the Marthalfey. And, To All Other My Vnknowne Favourites, who either priuately, or publicly wished me well in my imprisonment", A3-A8 (verso blank). The poems, B1-H1 (verso blank). "A Postscript To The Reader", H2-H7 (verso blank). The verso of Sig. E3 is blank.

The work is printed throughout between type-metal bands at the head and foot of each page.

If Mr. Sidgwick is correct regarding two editions bearing the Snodham imprint, this is the third edition.

1024 WITHER, GEORGE.

Fidelia, | Written | By G. W. of Lin- | colnes Inne, | Gentleman. | London, | Printed by Nicholas | Okes. 1617. [Colophon]
London, | Printed by Nicholas Okes, for Greoge (sic) | Norton, and are to be sold at his Shop | neere Temple-barre Gate. 1617.

Duodecimo. Second edition.

COLLATION: A-C6, in twelves.

Title as above within a broad type-metal border, A2 (verso blank). "The Stationer to the Reader" signed by George Norton, A3. The poem, A4-C4. "Inter Equitand: Palinod.", C5. Printer's device and colophon as above, C6 (verso blank).

The first edition of "Fidelia" exists in only one known copy, which is preserved in the Bodleian Library. The title is as follows:

Fidelia | London | Printed by Nicholas | Okes. 1615.

Mr. Sidgwick calls it a privately printed edition. The above edition of 1617 is very rare, and only two or three perfect copies are known. It was reprinted in 1619; in the "Workes", 1620; in "Juvenilia", 1622 and 1633; and by Sir Egerton Brydges in 1815.

1025 WITHER, GEORGE.

A | Preparation | To the Pfallter. | By George Wyther. Gent. |
London, | Printed by Nicholas Okes. | 1619.

Folio. First edition.

COLLATION: Two leaves without signatures; A-M, in sixes; N, eight leaves.

Preceding the title is a frontispiece engraved by Francis Delaram, a reduced facsimile of which is given. Title as above within an elaborate woodcut border, one leaf (verso blank). It is followed by a single blank leaf. Dedication to the Prince of Wales, A1. "To the Reader", A2. "The Generall Contents Of The Whole Booke", A3-A4. "... Catalogue of such Writers, as I made vse of in this Preparation", A5. "A Sonnet, Wherein All Creatures Are Provoked To Ioyne Together, In Prayse Of Their Almighty Creator", A6. The work, B1-N3. "A Soliloquy; or the Authors Preparation of himselfe vnto the Studie and Vse of the Psalter" and "The Prayer", both in verse, N4-N6. "A Hymne Of Thankes-Giving After Sicknesse: Wherein (vpon Consideration of Gods mercies) the Author hath vowed to employ himselfe in fetting forth his Redeemer's Praife", N7-N8; on verso a list of errata and the following imprint: "London Imprinted by Nicholas Okes. 1619."

So far as the compilers of this catalogue have been able to ascertain the copy above described is the only one containing the printed title.

Mr. Sidgwick says that the fine portrait of Wither engraved by Delaram belongs in this volume, but no copy seen by the compilers of this work contains it. The portrait is undoubtedly rare, and is a very beautiful specimen of Delaram's finest work.

"... a metrical Paraphraſe vpon the firſt eight verſes of the 12 Chapter of Eccleſiaſtes", M5-M7; on verso errata and advertisement. One blank leaf, M8. Each page is printed within ruled lines.

1027 WITHER, GEORGE.

The | Workes | Of Maſter | George Wither, Of | Lincolns-Inne, | Gentleman. | Containing | Satyrs. | Epigrams. | Eclogues. | Sonnets. | and Poems. | Whereunto is annexed a Pa- | raphraſe on the Creed and the | Lords Prayer. | London, | Printed by John Beale for Thomas Walkley, and are to | be ſold at his ſhop at the Eagle and Child in | Brittaines Burſe. 1620.

Octavo.

COLLATION: A-L, in eights; M, four leaves; N-Z4, in eights.

Title as above, A2 (verso blank). The satires, A3-C4 (verso blank). On C5 (verso blank) a new title as follows: Epithalamia: | Or | Nuptiall Poems | vpon the Moſt Blessed | and Happy Marriage | betweene the High and Mighty Prince | Frederick the fifth, Count Pala-

tine | of the Rhein, Duke of | Bauier, &c. | and the Moſt Vertuous, | Gracious and thrice Excellent Princeſſe, Elizabeth Sole Daughter to our dread Soueraigne, Iames, by | the grace of God King of Great Brittain, | France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. | Celebrated at White-Hall

the fourteenth of Februarie, 1612. | Written by George Wither. | London, | Printed by Iohn Beale for Thomas Walkley, and are to | be fold at his shop at the Eagle and Child in | Brittaines Burfe. 1620.

Dedication, C6 (verso blank). "To the Christian Readers", C7. "Epithalamia", C8-E5 (verso blank). On E6 (verso blank) a new title as follows:

The | Shepheards | Pipe. | [Greek motto.] | London, | Printed by Iohn Beale for Thomas Walkley, and are to | be fold at his shop at the Eagle and Child in | Brittaines Burfe. 1620.

Dedication to Edward, Lord Zouch, signed William Browne, E7. "Of his Friend, Maſter William Browne", signed E. Iohnſon, E8. "To his better beloved, then knowne Friend, Maſter Browne", signed Iohn Onley, F1. The poems, F2-L4 (verso blank). On L6 (verso blank) a new title as follows:

Other | Eglogues. | By Maſter Brooke, and Ma- | ſter Dauies. | London, | Printed by Iohn Beale for Thomas Walkley, and are to | be fold at his ſhop at the Eagle and Child in | Brittaines Burfe. 1620.

The poems, dedicated to William Browne, L7-N3 (verso blank). On N4 (verso blank) a new title as follows:

The | Shepheards | Hunting: | Being certaine Eglogues written | during the time of the Authors Imprifonment in the | Marſhalſey. | By George Wither, Gentleman. | London, | Printed by Iohn Beale for Thomas Walkley, and are to | be fold at his ſhop at the Eagle and Child in | Brittaines Burfe. 1620.

Dedication to his friends, N5-O1 (verso blank). The poems, O2-S7 (versos of P7 and Q7 blank). "A Poſtſcript to the Reader", S8-T3. On T5 (verso blank) a new title as follows:

Fidelia. | Newly Corrected, | and augmented. | By George Withers of Lincolns-Inne Gentelman. | London, | Printed by Iohn Beale for Thomas Walkley, and are | to be fold at his Shop at the Eagle and Child | in Brittaines-Burfe. 1620.

"The Stationer to the Reader", signed George Norton, T6. The poems, ending with "The Christians Armour", T7-Z4 (verso blank). Signatures A1, L5, and T4 are blank.

In most copies of this book leaf L8 is cancelled, and either a blank leaf is substituted in another part of the signature or the signature is left with seven leaves only. In the present copy L8 recto has the eight lines ending the preceding poem and the name of the author, Christopher Brooke. L8 verso has the beginning of a new poem, "Thirsis and Alexis", extending to sixteen lines, and followed on Sig. M1 recto by the same eight lines and Brooke's signature that are found on L8 recto. It is obvious that the poem, "Thirsis and Alexis", does not belong in that place, and that if that leaf is cancelled the book will read correctly.

This volume was issued without Wither's authorization, and he retorted by publishing "Juvenilia", 1622, a volume containing his best work.

1028 WITHER, GEORGE.

The | Songs Of | The Old Testament, | Translated into English Mea- | fures, preferuing the Naturall | Phraſe and genuine Senſe of the | holy Text: and with as little cir- | cumlocution as in moſt proſe | Tranſlations, | To euery Song is added a new | and eaſie

Tune, and a fhort | Prologue alfo, deliuering the | effect and Vfe thereof, for the | profit of unlearned | Readers. | By George Wither. | Cum priuilegio & permiffa Superiorum. | London, | Printed by T. S. 1621.

Duodecimo. First edition.

COLLATION: A, six leaves; B-D, in twelves.

Title as above within double ruled lines, A1 (verso blank). Dedication "To The Most Reuerend Father in God, George, by the Diuine Prouidence, Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate, &c. and to the rest of the most Reuerend Archbishops. To the Reuerend Fathers alfo, the L. Bishops, and to all other the deuout Pastors and Superintendents, of the Churches of Great Britaine, and Ireland, George Wither, their humble Seruant, wifheth all encrease of Spirituall graces: and to their Christian difpofure, submits Him selfe and this Endeauour" dated "January the 1. 1621", A2-A6; on verso "A Table of the Songs". The songs, with musical notation, and arguments, B1-D12.

1029 WITHER, GEORGE.

Wither's Motto. | Nec habeo, nec Careo, nec Curo. | London printed for Iohn Marriott 1621.

Octavo. Second edition (?).

COLLATION: A-F2, in eights.

One leaf with recto blank, and having on the verso, facing the title-page, "The Explanation of the Embleme" in verse, A1. Title as above, engraved by Elstracke. Preface addressed "To any body", A2-A4 (verso blank). The poem, A5-F2 recto. It is followed on the same page by a short poem, "To Enuy". "An Epigram, written by the Author on his owne Picture; where, this Motto was inscribed", F2 verso.

Mr. Sidgwick states that the first edition of this work exists in two forms:

(a) "Wither's | Motto. | Nec habeo, nec Careo, nec Curo | Anno Domini CIOIOCCXXI."

Both these books are otherwise identical. Later editions of the same year have the engraved title-page alone, with this addition inscribed at the foot of the engraving itself: "London printed for Iohn Marriott 1621".

It would seem from this that the above-described edition cannot be earlier than the second.

1030 WITHER, GEORGE.

Wither's Motto. | Nec habeo, nec Careo, nec Curo. | London printed for John Marriott 1621.

Octavo. Third edition (?).

COLLATION: A-F4, in eights.

One leaf with recto blank, and having on the verso, facing the title-page, "The Explanation of the Embleme" in verse. Title as above, engraved by Elstracke. Preface addressed "To any body", A2-A4 (verso blank). The poem, A5-F2 recto. It is followed on the same page by a short poem "To Enuy". "An Epigram, written by the Author on his owne Picture; where, this Motto was inscribed", F2 verso. "A post-script", F3-F4.

It appears from the "Post-script" that this impression of "Wither's Motto" was called for only twenty days after the publication of the former. It doubtless went through many editions.

Another impression exists which differs from the one last described in having the "Post-script" precede the "Epigram". The collation of the last few pages is as follows: "A Post-script", F2 verso to F4 recto. "An Epigram", etc., F4 verso.

The "Motto" was reprinted in "Juvenilia", 1633.

1031 WITHER, GEORGE.

Faire-Virtue, | The | Mistresse | Of | Phil'arete. | Written by | Geo: Wither. | Catul. Carm. xv. | — nihil veremur | Istos, qui in platea, modo huc, modo illuc | In re pretereunt sua occupati. | London, | Printed for John Grifmand. | CIO. IOC. XXII.

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: A-P, in eights.

One blank leaf, A1. Title as above within double ruled lines, A2 (verso blank). "The Stationer To The Reader" signed by John Marriot, A3-A5 recto. "Phil'arete To His Mistresse" in eighteen stanzas of six lines each, A5 verso to A8. The work, B1-N7. "A Postscript", N8 (verso blank). "A Miscelany of Epigrams, Sonnets, Epitaphs, and such other Verfes, as were found written, with the Poeme, aforegoing", O1-P7 (verso blank). "The Stationers Postscript", P8 (verso blank).

Copies of this work differ in a single respect, some having on the title the words "Written by Him-selfe" in place of "Written by Geo: Wither". At least so say the cataloguers and booksellers, but no copy with "Written by Him-selfe" has come under the eyes of the compilers of this work.

"Faire-Virtue" is sometimes found bound up with "Juvenilia", 1622, and was reprinted in "Juvenilia", 1633, and by Sir Egerton Brydges in 1818.

[No. 1032.]

1032 WITHER, GEORGE.

Juvenilia. | A | Collection | of those | Poemes | which were | heretofore imprinted, and written by | George wither. | Lon-

Mighty Prince, Frederick the fifth, Count Palatine of the Rheine . . .", Ff3 (verso blank). "To the Christian Readers", Ff4. The poems, Ff5-Hh2 (verso blank). Title as follows, Hh3 (verso blank):

The | Shepheards | Hunting: | Being certaine Eglogues written | during the time of the Authors | Imprifonment in the | Marfhalfey. | By George Wither, Gentleman. | London, | Printed by T. S. for Iohn Budge, dwelling in Pauls- | Church-yard, at the figne of the Greene | Dragon, 1622.

Dedication "To those Honoured, Noble, and right Vertuous Friends, my Vifi-tants in the Marfhalfey: And to all other my vnknowne Fauouers, who either priuately, or publikely wifhed me well in my imprifonment", Hh4-Hh7. The poem, Hh8-Nn1 recto. "A Postfcript. To the Reader" in prose, Nn1 verso to Nn4. Title as follows, Nn5 (verso blank):

Fidelia: By George Wither, Gent: London, | Printed by T. S. for Iohn Budge, dwelling in Pauls- | Church-yard, at the figne of the Greene | Dragon, 1622.

The poem, followed by "A Metricall Paraphrafe vpon the Creede" and "vpon the Lords Prayer", Nn6-Qq6.

In 1626 the unsold sheets of this edition were reissued with the imprint at the foot of the engraved title changed to read as follows: "London printed for Robert Allott, in paul's Church yard at y<sup>e</sup> figne of the greyhound. 1626". "Wither's Motto", 1621, and "Faire-Virtue", 1622, are sometimes found bound up with "Juvenilia", 1622-26, but do not necessarily belong to the volume. In 1633, the second edition of "Juvenilia" was issued and contained them both, in addition to the contents of the above edition.

1033 WITHER, GEORGE.

The poetical portions of the book are printed in black letter. The music, composed by Orlando Gibbons, is printed before many of the songs.

1035 WITHER, GEORGE.

The | Schollers | Purgatory, | Discouered | In the Stationers Common-wealth, | And | Discribed in a Discourse Apolo- | geticall, aswell for the publike aduan- | tage of the Church, the State & whole | Common-wealth of England, as for the | remedy of priuate iniuries. | By | Geo: Wither. | Pro: 18. 13. | He that answeares his matter before he heare him, | it is shame and folly vnto him. Suffer him | then that he may speake; and when he hath | spoken, mock on, Iob 21. 2. | Imprinted | For the Honest Stationers. [n. d.]

Octavo. First edition.

COLLATION: (:), four leaves; A-H, in eights; I, two leaves.

Title as above, (:)<sub>1</sub> recto. "The occasion and contents of this Apology", (:)<sub>1</sub> verso to (:)<sub>4</sub>. The work, A1-I2 (verso blank).

This very rare work gives Wither's side of his quarrel with the booksellers and stationers of London for refusing to bind up and sell a copy of his "Hymnes and Songs of the Church" with every copy of the Psalms in meter. In some way Wither had procured a patent from the King commanding this to be done, and he no doubt looked upon it as a sure way to wealth, or at least to a fair competency, if it should be observed. But the booksellers resisted and utterly refused to obey the command. Wither states his case with much force and eloquence, but never was able to enforce his patent. It is considered more than likely that the work was printed abroad, and about the year 1625.

Dedication in verse to Philip, Earl of Pembroke, (★)1. Second dedication in verse to Henry, Earl of Holland, (★)2. Fourth book of emblems, Ff1-Mm1. "The Fourth Lotterie" in fifty-six stanzas, Mm2-Nn3. "A Table for the better finding out of the principall things and matters, mentioned in theſe Four Bookes", Nn4-Oo2 recto. "A Superfeedes to all them, whoſe cuſtome it is, without any deſerving, to importune Authors to give unto them their Bookes" in verse, Oo2 verso to Oo3; on verso "A Direction, ſhewing how they who are ſo difpofed, ſhall find out their Chance, in the Lotteries aforegoing". Two woodcut dials, one for the fifty-six stanzas of each "Lotterie", and one for the four different books, Oo4 (verso blank). In some copies a movable index is fixed in the centre of each dial, the idea being that "they who are ſo diſpoſed ſhall find out their chance" by turning the indexes and ſeeking the book and stanza to which they may point.

"In 1635 Henry Taunton, a publisher, employed Wither to write verses for a collection of emblematical and allegorical engravings which had previously gained a certain popularity on the Continent."—Introduction to "The Poetry of George Wither," 1902.

The plates were engraved by Crispin de Passe for a work of Gabriel Rollenhagen published 1611-13.

1039 WITHER, GEORGE.

The | Nature | Of Man. | A learned and usefull Tract | written in Greek by Nemesius, | furnamed the Philosopher; | fometime Bishop of a City | in Phœnicia, and one of the | moft ancient Fathers | of the Church. | Englished, | And divided into Sections, | with briefs of their principall | Contents: | By | Geo: Wither. | London: | Printed by M. F. for Henry Taunton | in St. Dunstons Churchyard in | Fleetstreet. 1636.

Duodecimo. First edition.

COLLATION: A, four leaves; Aa, six leaves; A-Z and Aa-Ff6, in twelves.

Title as above printed in red and black within double ruled lines, A2 (verso blank). It was probably preceded by a blank leaf, A1. Dedication to John Selden dated "From my Cottage, under the Beacon hill neere Farnham. May 23. 1636", A3-A2 (verso blank). "A Preface to the Reader, concerning the Author of this Book; touching the Contents thereof, and the Translation of the same, &c.", Aa3-A12; on verso the Imprimatur as follows: "Percurri Librum hunc De Naturâ hominis in quo nihil reperio sanæ fidei aut bonis moribus contrarium Tho: Weekes P. P. Episc. Lond. Cap. Domest." The work, B1-Ff6 (verso blank).

The translation was not made from the Greek, but from two Latin versions.

1040 WITHER, GEORGE.

Haleluiah | Or | Britans Second Re- | membrancer, bringing to | Remembrance (in praifefull | and Pœnitential Hymns, Spi- | rituall Songs, and Morall-Odes) | Meditations, advancing the glory | of God, in the practife of Pietie and | Vertue; and applyed to easie Tunes, | to be Sung in Families, &c. | Composed in a three-fold Volume, by | George Wither. | The first, contains Hymns Occasionall. | The second, Hymns-Temporary. | The third, Hymns-Perfonall. | That all Perfons, according to their De- | grees, and Qualities, may at all Times, and | upon all eminent Occasions, be remem- | mbered to praise God; and to be | mind-

full of their Duties. | One woe is past, the second, passing on; | Beware the third, if this, in vain be gone. | London, | Printed by I. L. for Andrew Hebb, at the Bell | in Pauls Church-yard. 1641.

Duodecimo. First edition.

COLLATION: A-Y10, in twelves.

Title as above, A1 (verso blank). Dedication "To The thrice Honorable, the high Courts of Parliament, now assembled, in the Triple-Empire of the British-Iles: Geo. Wither, humbly tenders, this his Halleluiah Or Second Remembrancer", A2-A7. "To the Reader", A8-A12. First part of the hymns, B1-L3 (verso blank). The second part beginning with "The Authors Proteftation, Petition, and Charge concerning these Temporary-Hymns", 14-Q3. "To the Reader", prefatory to the third part, Q4-Q5 (verso blank). Third part, Q6-Y3. Eighteen lines of supplementary verse, Y4 (verso blank). Table of contents, Y5-Y10; on verso the license as follows: "Mart. 13. 1640. Imprimatur. Tho Wykes".

This is called one of the scarcest of Wither's publications, only four copies being located.

It is the last in which he shows the lyrical power of his early works. It contains some of the best of his religious poetry.

 is George Wither Esq; | Who, in writing this Address, being transported beyond the sense of his | Personal Sufferings, discovers by a Poetical Rapture, that whereon the | peace of these Nations depends; and, what Is, and what Will | Be, their sad Condition;
 as also, what New-Purgatories, and | Fiery-Tryals, they are likely to pass, if God's Mercy, pre- | vents not: which that they may endeavour to obtain, | their old Remembrancer gives them, once more, a | Fore-warning; resolving, this shall be his Last | Time,
 of sounding them an Alarm. | When Disrespects, to Wrongs, doth
 Ruine adde, | He, may be wise, who seems a little mad; | And, in that Fit speak things that needfull be | To turn those men, that are, more mad than he. | Printed at London, in the Year 1659.

Wither ſays: "Though this Authors writings have been contemned, and difgracefully termed Scriblings by ſome, yet becauſe by them the conſtitution of the Generation wherin he liveth, may be partly known:
very many have importuned him, to publiſh a Catalogue of thoſe Poems and Diſcourſes which have been hertofore by him compoſed and imprinted, together with thoſe which are not yet publiſhed, that, they who are deſir-ous to collect them for their private uſe, may know by what names to enquire for them. Therefore to fulfill their deſire, the ſaid Author hath here fet down the titles of ſo many of them as he remembers at this time (not in the order as they were written but as they came to mind) whereby, if any of thoſe Manuſcripts which were loſt when his houſe was plundered, or by other caſualties, ſhall be brought again to his hand, he will be very thankful to the bringer, and give him a Copy thereof if he deſire it, or

The work is composed throughout in rhymed heroic couplets with a few lyrics interspersed.

Two other distinct editions of the book were printed the same year. They are paginary reprints of the first edition; the three lines of errata described above are corrected.

The edition described above as the first can be sufficiently identified by the list of errata and the spacing of the title, which differs slightly from the other two, which are identical. For convenience of description, the others will be designated as Nos. 2 and 3, although there is no evidence as to which was issued earlier.

No. 2 differs in the title-page only in the spacing of some of the lines and in the spelling of "bee" in the first line of the couplet headed, "Fiat Justitia". On p. 1, the third line reads "Condering-Glasse" instead of "Considering-Glass", and the date in the following line is misprinted "DMCLX" for "MDCLX"; the book is entirely reprinted.

No. 3. The title in matter and spacing is identical with No. 2; the third line, which in the second is spelled "Considering-Glass", is here spelled, "Considering-Glasse"; on p. 1 the error in spelling "Considering-Glass" is corrected, and also the misprint in the date. The book is again entirely reprinted, presenting differences in spelling, type, and arrangement on every page from each of the other two.

Many of the poems in this volume are dated during August, September, and October, 1661, from Newgate prison, where the author complains that he has been imprisoned on account of a poem of his called "Vox Vulgi", "neither Published nor Finished". Among the poems is one entitled "George Wither's Appollogy for composing the Poem called Vox Vulgi; being a Welcome home from the Counties, Citties and Burroughs, to their Prevaricating Members; saving the honour of the House of Commons, and of every faithfull and discreet Individual member thereof; which Poem was surpris'd before quite finished". Another is explanatory of his "Frequent Scriblings". Petitions and meditations form the subject matter of most of the rest.

ILLUSTRATIONS

Facing title.	Portrait of Sir Henry Wotton, engraved by Lombart.
“ Sig. A1 recto.	“ “ Robert Devereux, Earl of Essex.
“ “ C2 “	“ “ George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham.
“ “ F3 “	“ “ Charles I.

The “Panegyrick To King Charls” is not the same translation as that described in the last number, although it is apparently from the same Latin original. It has the same portrait of Charles I prefixed.

The “Poems Found among the Papers of S. H. Wotton” are all by Sir Walter Raleigh, and are signed with his nom-de-guerre, “Ignoto”.

Tooke; at the | Gun at the Weſt-End of St. Paul's, the Ship in St. Paul's | Church-Yard, and at the Middle-Temple Gate, Fleet- | ſtreet. MDCCIV.

Folio. First edition.

COLLATION: [a]-[m], in twos; A-Z, Aa-Zz, and Aaa-Iii, in fours.

Facing the title is a portrait of the author at the age of twenty-eight, the well-known mezzotint by Smith after Sir Peter Lely. Title as above within ruled lines, [a]1 (verso blank). "The Preface To My Criticks ante manum, Who were my Crit-icks, before they were my Readers", [a]2-[i]1. "The Contents", [i]2-[m]1. Errata, [m]2. Poems beginning with "The Dedication To The Greatest Friend of the Muses Vanity", A1-Iii4.

At the foot of the last page are the words "The End of the Firſt Volume". In some copies a slip is pasted over this inscription bearing the words "The End". It was undoubtedly the publishers' first intention to issue a second volume of Wycherley's miscellaneous works in the same form as the volume described above, but for some reason the publication was delayed until 1728, when it appeared in a different form. (See following number.)

Some copies of the above work were printed on large paper. The work was reissued in 1706 with a new title in which the imprint reads as follows: "London | Printed for Jefferly Wale, at the Angel in St Paul's | Church-Yard, 1706."

1086 WYCHERLEY, WILLIAM.

The author of the "Short Account of the most Eminent Painters" was Richard Graham.

The work was reprinted in 1716 with a prefatory poem by Pope to Jervas, the painter.

There are copies on large and finer paper.

1088 RICHARDS, NATHANIEL (fl. 1630-1654).

Poems Sacred | And | Satyricall, | viz. | Prayers Paradise. | The World. | The Flefh. | The Iefuite. | The Devill. | Mans Mifery. | Sinnes Infirmity. | Sinnes Impudence. | The Penitent Sinner. | The Soules-fea-fight. | The fingle & Married- | life. | Teares Tryumph. | Mercies Miracle. | Faith. | Hope. | Charity. | Mid-nights Meditation. | Virtues Pyramid. | Chaftity and Luft. | The Divine Dreame. | The Divine Eccho | Deaths Mafqueing- | Night. | By Nathanael Richards. | Printed at London by T. Paine, for H. Blunden | at the Caffle in Cornehill. 1641.

Octavo. Second edition.

COLLATION: A, four leaves; B-N<sub>4</sub>, in eights.

Half-length portrait of the author crowned with laurel, in an oval engraved by Thomas Rawlins, A1 verso (recto blank). Engraved title, A2 (verso blank); a knight is represented as resisting the power of the Devil, the World and the Flesh, personified by a satyr and two women; a hand from the clouds reaches toward him a laurel wreath inscribed "Consolatio"; below, is the title, as follows: "Poems | Sacred and Satyricall | by | N. R. Gen: | See the next Page | Printed for Humphry Blunden at the Caffle in Cornehill 1641".

Printed title as above with band of type-metal ornaments at the top of the page, A3; on verso, acrostic verses forming the author's name, entitled "The Author". Dedication to Thomas Soame, A4. The poems, B1-N1, ending with the word "Finis" at the foot of N1 verso. "Latine Verses Englished By This Author, as they were erected in the Hangings in the Vpper Houfe of Parliament.", N2-N3 (verso blank). One blank leaf, N4. The versos of Sigs. C5, E3, E7, F2, G7, I4, I8, K1, K3, K5, L1, L2, L4, L7, M1, and M6 are blank.

Sig. B3 is misprinted F3, and on Sig. I3 recto the word "Teares" in the running title is spelled "Theares". With the exception of Sig. K3 recto, the work is printed throughout with bands of type-metal ornaments at the head of each page. Sig. A3 verso has an additional band at the foot.

These poems were first issued in 1630, under the title "The Celestiall Publican, a Sacred Poem", etc. Only two perfect copies of the 1630 edition are known, one in the British Museum, and the other in the Huth Library. In 1632 a few unsold copies were reissued with a few omissions and a new title, "Poems Divine, Morall, and Satyricall". The Huth Library contains a unique copy of the reissue.

The edition of 1641 is fully described in "Bibliographical Memoranda" by John Fry, who mentions a reimpression of the engraved title-page, between pp. 26, 27, with inscriptions added, and other variations. Some copies of this edition have the dedication in verse.
